

El Camino College

CAMPUS ADVISORY

Today the El Camino College Police Department learned of an unconfirmed threat made at the conclusion a baseball game between El Camino College and Cerritos College at El Camino on Saturday, March 24. At the end of the game witnesses observed a white male 5'8" to 5'9," 150-180 pounds with long hair, in his late '40s, threaten to attend today's baseball game at Cerritos College between El Camino and Cerritos after saying "See you all on Monday; I'll bring my AK."

The El Camino College Police Department (ECCPD) takes these matters very seriously and is investigating this alleged threat. While the ECCPD is not discouraging attendance at today's game, they do advise those attending today's game to be aware of their surroundings and to please call the Police Department at 310-660-3100 if you see anything out of the ordinary or a male matching the above description.

If you see something, say something.
BE AWARE. BE SAFE.
