Nursing Department Credit by Examination Policy

1. A student may petition for credit by examination for all nursing courses (NURS150A, NURS150B, NURS 151, NURS 152, NURS 153, NURS 154, NURS156, NURS 155).
2. The student must be enrolled and pay all fees.
3. The current established theory and clinical course outlines, objectives, learning activities and recommended readings in the course/s being challenged will be used.
4. The examination criteria, theory and clinical, will be the same criteria currently established for the specific course/s being challenged.
5. The theory challenge examination must be passed at 75% or higher before the clinical portion can be challenged.
6. The clinical portion must be passed as "Satisfactory." If the clinical portion results in "failure," the whole course being challenged must be taken.
7. Theory, clinical and skills lab must be passed to receive a grade for the course.
8. Students will only be able to take a nursing course examination for credit one time.
