YOU NEED TO KNOW THESE THINGS ABOUT WORKSHOPS

- You will lose your priority registration if you do not attend at least one workshop every semester.
- Write down each workshop you attend on the HTP Completion Form in your Handbook. You will receive credit only for workshops that you record accurately.
- You do not need to sign up for workshops in advance.
- Arrive at the workshop on time, according to the clock in the workshop room. If you are late, the door will be locked and you will not be admitted. Why take a chance? Arrive early and get a good seat!
- Stay for the full time (50 minutes). You cannot leave the room and then return.
- Sign the attendance sheet after the workshop is over. No signature = no credit.
- No food or beverages are allowed in workshop rooms.
- Turn off all electronic devices.
- Listen to the speaker. No talking, texting, reading, studying, or disturbing others.
- If we add another workshop, we will email you.
- Transfer Center workshops are not HTP workshops.
- You may attend more than one workshop in a single semester, and they will all count, but you cannot “bank” a workshop for a future semester. Every semester you must attend at least one, until you have completed four.
- You should receive an email message from HTP about once a week during the fall and spring semesters. Emails are sent to your ECC email address only, and emails that the HTP secretary sends to the entire HTP membership are printed and posted on the bulletin board between offices 102F and 102G.

This schedule may be modified. Read your ECC email every day.
