EL CAMINO COLLEGE STRATEGIC PLAN 2010 THROUGH 2014

Vision Statement

El Camino College will be the College of choice for successful student learning, caring student services and open access. We, the employees, will work together to create an environment that emphasizes people, respect, integrity, diversity and excellence. Our College will be a leader in demonstrating accountability to our community.

Mission Statement

El Camino College offers quality, comprehensive educational programs and services to ensure the educational success of students from our diverse community.

Statement of Philosophy

Everything El Camino College is or does must be centered on its community. The community saw the need and valued the reason for the creation of El Camino College. It is to our community that we must be responsible and responsive in all matters educational, fiscal and social.

Statement of Values

Our highest value is placed on our students and their educational goals, interwoven in that value is our recognition that the faculty and staff of El Camino College are the College's stability, its source of strength and its driving force. With this in mind, our five core values are:

People – We strive to balance the needs of our students, employees and community.

Respect – We work in a spirit of cooperation and collaboration.

Integrity – We act ethically and honestly toward our students, colleagues and community.

Diversity – We recognize and appreciate our similarities and differences.

Excellence – We aspire to deliver quality and excellence in all we do.

Guiding Principles

The following guiding principles are used to direct the efforts of the District:

El Camino College must strive for distinction in everything the College does—in the classroom, in services and in human relations. Respect for our students, fellow employees, community and ourselves, must be our underlying goal.

Cooperation among our many partners including other schools and colleges, businesses and industries, and individuals is vital for our success.

Access and success must never be compromised. Our classrooms are open to everyone who meets our admission eligibility and our community programs are open to all. This policy is enforced without discrimination and without regard to gender, ethnicity, personal beliefs, abilities or background.

Strategic Initiatives

- A. Enhance teaching to support student learning using a variety of instructional methods and services.
- B. Strengthen quality educational and support services to promote student success.
- C. Foster a positive learning environment and sense of community and cooperation through an effective process of collaboration and collegial consultation.
- D. Develop and enhance partnerships with schools, colleges, universities, businesses, and community-based organizations to respond to the workforce training and economic development needs of the community.
- E. Improve processes, programs, and services through the effective use of assessment, program review, planning, and resource allocation.
- F. Support facility and technology improvements to meet the needs of students, employees, and the community.
- G. Promote processes and policies that move the College toward sustainable, environmentally sensitive practices.

STATEMENT OF REPORT PREPARATION
Follow-up Report
October 15, 2010

This report is written in response to the January 29, 2010 request by Barbara Beno, President of the Accreditation Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC), for a third follow-up report to the recommendations made by the Accreditation Committee.

The report will demonstrate the College's progress on Recommendation 1, 2, 5 and 6. AS described in recommendation 1, both the College and the Center show ongoing sustainability with planning and program review. The College and the Center fully expect to be at the proficiency level of the ACCJC SLO Rubric by 2012, as indicated in recommendation 2. This progress report contains the College's initial response to Recommendation 5 and will demonstrate that both the College and the Center have met all requirements for faculty evaluation. Recommendation 6 has been met, with the College and the Compton Center in sound fiscal condition.

The report was presented to the El Camino Community College District Board of Trustees at the September 7, 2010 meeting and was published on the College Website.

The report was prepared by Francisco Arce, Vice President, Academic Affairs, Jeanie Nishime, Vice President, Student and Community Advancement and Accreditation Liaison Officer, Arvid Spor, Dean, Enrollment Services and Accreditation Co-Chair, and Evelyn Uyemura, Humanities faculty member and Accreditation Co-Chair, in consultation with the Accreditation Task Force and other members of the El Camino College and Compton Educational Center community.

The Accreditation Task Force includes the following members:

Francisco M. Arce, Vice President, Academic Affairs
Susan Dever, Dean, Academic Affairs, Compton Community Educational Center
Jeanie Nishime, Vice President, Student and Community Advancement and ALO
Saul Panski, History Faculty, Compton Community Educational Center
Luukia Smith, Accounting Technician and President, El Camino Classified Employees
Arvid Spor, Dean, Enrollment Services and Accreditation Co-Chair
Evelyn Uyemura, Humanities Faculty and Accreditation Co-Chair
David Vakil, Natural Sciences Faculty and President, Academic Senate

The College is confident that it has taken effective steps to respond to all recommendations.

Recommendation 1. As cited in previous (1990, 1996, and 2002) accreditation recommendations the college should complete the full implementation of its process for tracking planning, program review, budgeting, and evaluation process and complete the cycle to assure that all the departments and sites (including the ECC Compton Center) of the college participate in the program review process, and that the results of program review clearly link to institutional planning and the allocation of resources. (I.B.3; I.B.3; II.A.2.e; II.A.2.f; III.B.1; III.B.1.a; III.B.2.a; III.b.2.b)

All programs at the College have completed program review within the past six years. In response to the Commission's concern, the College has transitioned from a six-year to a four-year cycle of program review for all departments (unless the program has mandated reviews on a more frequent schedule.) Reviews conducted in Academic Affairs and Student Services are developed simultaneously at the College and Center. Administrative Services program reviews are initiated at the main campus and developed in partnership with the Center. Recommendations from program reviews are included in program plans.

(Appendix 1: Program Review Timetables)

Planning Cycle

The College uses a planning model to assure that the institutional effectiveness cycle is maintained in all programs at all locations. For planning purposes, the College is organized into programs, units, and areas. The process begins with data collection and analysis, usually the result of recommendations arising from program review and updates, to form the basis of an annual program plan. Plans that do not require funding can be implemented at the program level. When additional funding or staffing is necessary, extensive dialogue occurs at the program level, with highest ranked items being forwarded to the unit level. Further dialogue at the unit level leads to prioritized requests which are then forwarded to the area vice president for institutional prioritization and possible funding. The vice presidents present the prioritized funding recommendations to the Planning and Budgeting Committee (PBC) for consultation. Upon endorsement of the PBC, the recommendations are forwarded to the President's Cabinet for additional discussion, review, and the President's recommendation to the Board of Trustees.

(Appendix 2: Planning Model)

Area vice presidents and the chair of the PBC assess progress toward completion of program goals and the college's strategic initiatives. Annual reporting and discussion of the progress occurs in PBC by the start of the fall semester.

Funding Cycle

The vice presidents review the priorities from each area in order to align program plans with institutional priorities. Items that are required by accreditation, that are necessary for health and safety, or that directly support the college's strategic initiatives receive the highest priority. The top institutional priorities are reviewed by the PBC, which sends its recommendations to the President's Cabinet for final funding consideration. If the PBC expresses concerns about the prioritized recommendations of the vice presidents, they may request additional information and rationale, and adjustments may be made. Once Cabinet has approved funding, the Superintendent/President makes a recommendation to the Board of Trustees for their consideration and approval. In the 2010-

11 budget allocation, this planning process resulted in $2.3 million in new funding being allocated at the Campus.

(Appendix 3: Funded 2010-11 Plans)

Planning and Staffing Decisions

Decisions to fill vacant positions or to create new positions are based on program review recommendations or annual plans. Cabinet analyzes the long-term impact of staffing decisions on district needs and on the fiscal health of the district. Classified and management positions are reviewed regularly in Cabinet as retirements and resignations occur. Requests for new positions are re-ranked against the need to fill vacant positions.

Proposals for hiring faculty are based on recommendations from program plans. All proposals are evaluated by the Faculty Identification Committee, consisting of deans and representatives of the Academic Senate, and then ranked. The committee's ranking is forwarded to the Superintendent/President. If the Superintendent/President makes changes to the committee's rankings, the Vice President of Academic Affairs writes a letter to the committee providing the rationale for the president's decision. Such changes may be the result of the college's desire to stay within the Full Time Obligation formula or unanticipated changes in programs.

Through the planning and budgeting process this year, the College identified and funded six new classified positions, including a research analyst, evaluator, human resource analyst, library media technician, custodian, and clerk for the POST Administration of Justice program, and filled nine vacant classified positions and three vacant management positions. In addition, twenty tenure-track faculty positions were filled. Program review also led to a recent decision to close down a program and to move affected personnel to areas that needed additional staffing.

(Appendix 4: Student Job Placement Center Program Review)

The Center also hired five new tenure-track faculty, including a financial aid counselor. In addition, six new classified positions, including a financial aid coordinator, two custodians, two admission and records specialists, and a research analyst have been approved for hire. All these positions at both the College and the Center were identified through program review, prioritized through the annual planning cycle, and identified as institutional priorities.

Tracking and Evaluating Plans

Plans from all locations are tracked throughout the year to assure quality and timeliness.

Evaluations are completed semi-annually, and an annual progress report will be submitted to the Planning and Budgeting Committee, Cabinet, and the Board of Trustees.

In 2009-10, all 211 of the plans completed their semi-annual evaluations. All college plans have a designated person who is responsible for ensuring that the plan is evaluated and progress noted. Goals that are in progress or on hold are included in the plan for the following year. This process supports continuous improvement efforts, allowing programs to evaluate their accomplishments, to identify new needs, and to prioritize funding requests based upon current data.

Program Review and Institutional Planning Processes

As of the 2009-2010 academic year, all programs at the College had completed at least one full cycle of program reviews. Most programs within Student Services and Academic Affairs have completed two or more program review cycles. Following the recommendation of the Commission, the College has transitioned to a four-year cycle of program review going forward.

At the Compton Center, Student Services and Academic Affairs have completed all program reviews. The Compton Community College District Administrative Services and Human Services areas undergo an annual FCMAT evaluation and site visit that parallel program reviews. The Center's Academic and Student Services areas are also subject to the FCMAT annual evaluation process. <http://www.compton.edu/campusinformation/currentnews/index.aspx>

El Camino College continues to refine its program review procedures in order to enhance institutional effectiveness. In the Academic Affairs area, an Academic Program Review Committee is charged with overseeing the complete cycle of academic program reviews. The Committee meets regularly with faculty and division deans to discuss the status of their program review and to provide guidance and feedback. Faculty participate in an orientation and are given a data set developed by the Institutional Research Office.

During the fall term, each program completes a draft of the program review, which is reviewed by the Academic Program Review committee. The final draft is submitted in April, approved by the committee, and posted on the College web site. This process has improved the quality of program reviews significantly and provided for greater accountability. Both the College and the Center have recently hired interim Associate Deans of Academic Affairs to assist faculty and staff with program review. (See Appendix 1 – Program Review Timelines)

Student and Community Advancement (SCA) has revised its program review template and will use a peer review process starting with the Fall 2010 program review cycle. Programs at both the College and the Center will undergo program review during the same timeframe in order to increase collaboration and standardization between similar programs. The peer review committee will provide an orientation for the programs undergoing review and provide feedback and commendations. (See Appendix 1 – Program Review Timelines)

The program review process in Human Resources and Administrative Services has also been strengthened with a revised template and peer review process. The process for evaluating the program reviews is under the direction of the vice president in each area in consultation with program personnel. All managers within Administrative Services review the program reviews and provide feedback and commendations to the program manager. Once completed, the program review recommendations are included in the unit plan by the unit managers. (Appendix 5: Administrative Services Program Review Template)

Conclusion

The College and Center fully integrate program review, planning, budgeting, and evaluation processes as noted in Recommendation 1. All departments and sites participate in program review, and the resulting recommendations are clearly linked to institutional planning and the allocation of resources. Based on the ACCJC Planning and Program Review Rubrics, the College is at the sustainable level.

Recommendation 2. The college should immediately define and publish a timeline in respect to how it will develop and implement student learning outcomes at the course, program and degree levels, establish systems to assess student learning outcomes and use the results of such assessments to make improvements in the delivery of student learning, to ensure the College shall attain, by 2012, the level of Proficiency in the ACCJC Rubric for Evaluating Instructional Effectiveness—Part III: Student Learning Outcomes. The college should immediately implement processes to communicate to students expected student learning outcomes in course outlines, course syllabi, college catalog and/or other effective channels (II.A.1.a; II.A.1.c; II.A.2.a-b; II.A.2.f; II.A.6)

The College defined and published an SLO timeline in Fall 2009. The College is continuing to follow and implement the actions described in the timeline in order to achieve Proficiency on the Commission's rubric by 2012. In response to the commission's follow-up report and recommendations, the College is taking the actions described below.
(Appendix 6: SLO Timeline)

Core Competency Assessment

A Core Competency Assessment Plan was developed by the Assessment of Learning Committee to assess degree-level SLOs. To begin, faculty from all departments completed alignment maps in Spring 2010 indicating the alignment of courses and programs with core competencies.
(Appendix 7: Core Competency Statements; Core Competency Assessment Plan)

The college is assessing core competencies according to the following schedule:

1. Communication and Comprehension (2010)
2. Critical, Creative, and Analytical Thinking (2011)
3. Professional and Personal Growth (2012)
4. Community and Collaboration (2013)
5. Information and Technology Literacy (2014)
6. Content Knowledge (2015)

The first core competency assessment for Communication and Comprehension began with data collection in Spring 2010. The college assesses its core competencies in three ways – student surveys, faculty surveys, and course grades. The student survey was designed, piloted, and distributed to students in May 2010. The Institutional Research Office randomly selected sixteen sections of courses that rated the Communication and Comprehension core competency as “very important.” The survey asked students to rate to what extent they have met the Communication and Comprehension core competency. Faculty were also asked to rate their students in this competency. These results will be compared with students' grades in these selected sections.

The results of the assessment will be discussed at a summit to take place in Fall 2010. The data and conclusions from the summit will be compiled into a report that will be drafted by the Assessment of Learning Committee and distributed campus-wide.

These assessments will become part of program review, linking core competency assessment to the institutional planning process. Faculty who write program reviews will reflect on data collected during core competency assessments as these competencies relate to their area or discipline, and recommendations will be incorporated into the program's annual plan.

(Appendix 8: Communication and Comprehension Core Competency Assessment)

Course and Program Level SLO Assessment

SLO assessment plans currently exist in 96% of courses and 96% of programs. The College has assigned an SLO Coordinator and six additional faculty members to assist colleagues with the development of course and program SLOs and assessment. At the Center, a faculty member has been assigned to assist with SLO coordination efforts. The division deans work closely with the faculty and the Office of Academic Affairs to assure steady progress on developing and assessing SLOs.

An indication of the college's progress on SLO assessment is the recent award to Dr. Jenny Simon, SLO Coordinator, for Promising Outcomes Work and Exemplary Research (POWER) for SLO assessment or research in the category of: SLO Coordinator/Mentor of the Year. Dr. Simon was selected for this award by the faculty and researchers of the statewide Academic Senate and RP Group's SLO Collaborative.

The following table shows a progress report by program of SLO development and assessment of course- and program-level SLOs:

Summary of Progress in SLOs: Spring 2010

Communication of SLOs to Students

The College has made a significant effort to assure that faculty at the College and the Center include SLOs in their syllabi. Students may also obtain course and program SLOs from the SLO webpage. The course schedule and catalog will include links to the SLO webpage beginning in Spring 2011.

To assess student awareness of SLOs, the Campus Climate Survey, administered in Fall, 2010, asked four questions regarding their perceptions of SLOs:

1. My professors have clearly explained the student learning outcomes for my classes.
2. In general, class activities are consistent with course student learning outcomes.
3. Class assessments/tests are consistent with course student learning outcomes.
4. The syllabi in my classes clearly state the student learning outcomes.

The data from these questions will serve as a baseline for the campus with regard to student awareness of SLOs.

Conclusion

The College and Center are completing assessment of course and program level SLOs in accordance with the timeline. The first core competency assessment has been completed, and a plan is in place to assess the remaining five core competencies. SLOs are being effectively communicated to the college community through several channels. El Camino College and the Compton Center will reach proficiency on the ACCJC rubric by 2012.

Recommendation 5. El Camino College and the ECC Compton Center need to fully integrate SLO assessment into the faculty evaluation process. The ECC Compton Center must implement its faculty evaluations and use the results of these evaluations to encourage instructional improvements and faculty development plans. (III.A.1.b; III.A.1.c)

El Camino College integrates SLO assessment into the faculty evaluation process. The faculty self evaluation report must address several criteria including “Objectives for the continued improvement of instruction and student learning outcomes” and “Analysis of previous objectives for the improvement of instruction and student learning outcomes”. Deans and the Human Resources Office assure that all faculty include an evaluation of Student Learning Outcomes in their self-evaluations.

Compton Center Faculty Evaluations

Since Fall 2008, the Center has assured that faculty evaluations are taking place as scheduled. Faculty members are evaluated every three years, alternating between a basic and a comprehensive evaluation process. As part of the comprehensive evaluation, a panel of four faculty participate in observing and evaluating all classes taught by the evaluatee. As part of the evaluation process, the evaluatee prepares a portfolio including the following information:

- Course syllabi
- Sample quizzes and exams
- Key information handouts
- Assignments
- Brief statement of instructional philosophy
- Summary of service (committee work, staff development activities, curriculum development, program review)
- Student learning outcomes and assessment strategies

At the conclusion of the process, the faculty panel meets with the evaluatee to discuss the observations. The evaluatee also meets with the dean, who completes a faculty development plan which focuses on the improvement of teaching.

In keeping with the schedule, sixty-three (75%) full-time faculty and fifty-nine (60%) part-time faculty have been evaluated by committees which generally include faculty from both the College and the Center. The final group of full-time faculty will be evaluated this fall and then the cycle will be repeated. Of the sixty-three faculty who were evaluated over the past two years, 63% participated in a comprehensive evaluation. To assure that student learning outcomes and assessments are addressed in faculty evaluations, the Vice President of Compton Center will hold orientation sessions with faculty scheduled for a comprehensive evaluation in Fall 2010. Expectations for student learning outcomes and the use of the assessments to improve instruction will be addressed.

As a follow-up to the faculty development plans, thirty-eight full-time and four part-time Center faculty participated in a one-year Faculty Inquiry Partnership (FIPP) and On Course training.

Conclusion

El Camino College and the Compton Center have fully integrated SLOs into the faculty evaluation process. All faculty at the Center are evaluated on a regular schedule and use the results of the evaluation to improve instruction.

Recommendation 6. El Camino College must develop a fiscal management plan at all sites, matched to its revenues, to assure the fiscal soundness of the institution. (III.D.2.c, III.D.2.d, III.D.2.g; III.D.3)

The El Camino Community College District (ECCCD) meets or exceeds the Accreditation Commission’s eligibility standards for fiscal stability.

Improved Fiscal Soundness at the Center

The Center receives its funding from the Compton Community College District (CCCD). During recent partnership years, the Center has made progress in several fiscal markers, specifically:

1. Year-End Closing of Books has gone from a delayed closing to a timely closing.
2. Audit Report has gone from a delayed report to a timely report.
3. Audit Opinion Letter has gone from a "going concern" to a "clean" audit report.
4. Deficit spending is no longer occurring.
5. The current reserve level is approximately 8% of expenditures, exceeding state recommended levels.

(Appendix 10: CCCD 2006-07 Annual Financial Report; CCCD 2008-09 Annual Financial Report).

Due to significant enrollment growth, the Center now has an annual net operating balance for the first time in years. Additionally the CCCD’s budget projections for the next five years forecast ongoing annual net operating balances.

(Appendix 11: Update of CEC FTES Recovery Plan; CCCD Three-Year Budget Projections).

Three -Year Budget Projection

General Reserve	1,884,035	860,302	469,189

Continuing Fiscal Soundness at El Camino Community College District

ECCCD began the 2010-11 fiscal year with a reserve for contingencies of 14.57%. In addition, it has met over 56% of its obligation to fund retiree health benefits. The fiscal stability of the district allowed it to backfill losses to the categorical programs by $1,150,000 in the 2010-11 budget and to maintain all full time employees without layoffs or furloughs.

Given the current fiscal issues in the State of California, considerable efforts were undertaken to ensure the continued fiscal soundness of ECCCD. Those efforts include careful review of its three-year budget forecast which is provided below:

Three -Year Budget Projection

El Camino Community College District (ECCCD)

December 2009

Year	FY 2010-11	FY 2011-12	FY 2012-13
FTES	18,340	17,973	17,703
Beginning Balance	17,873,095	16,696,901	12,581,715
Total Revenue	106,549,753	105,712,573	105,821,007
Total Available	124,422,848	122,409,474	118,402,722
Total Expenses	107,725,947	109,827,759	111,395,681
Ending Balance / Reserves	16,696,901	12,581,715	7,007,041

Assuring Fiscal Soundness

Both the ECCCD and CCCD use independent Certified Public Accounting (CPA) firms to assess the annual basic financial statements for each location. As with all California Community College Districts, the auditing process is conducted late in the fall after the fiscal year ends on June 30th. The CPA firm typically issues the Independent Auditor’s Report in December of the same year.

During the October 2008 visit, a team member noted that “the fiscal soundness of the ECC Center is of great concern” due to an annual operating budget with a $3.2 million deficit, “an Unqualified Opinion with a Going Concern,” and twenty-eight findings in the 2006-07 auditors’ report. These concerns have since been addressed as evidenced by the following:

1. The Center’s 2009-10 annual operating budget now has a $2 million reserve.
2. The “going concern” opinion as noted in the 2006-07 audit report has been removed.
3. The “qualified opinion” as noted in the 2007-08 audit report has been corrected.

4. Of the nineteen findings from the 2007-08 audit, ten have been completely resolved, eight have been partially resolved and progress continues, and one is in the process of having a corrective action plan being developed and implemented.

(Appendix 12: CCCD 2009-10 Budget; CCCD 2007-08 Audit Findings Action Plan).

Fiscal Planning

The CCCD's budget is now balanced. The district ended both the 2008-09 and 2009-10 fiscal years with a positive ending balance and adopted a budget for 2010-11 that includes reserves and contingencies of approximately 7.4% of budgeted expenditures.

College and Center management have worked together from the beginning of the agreement to develop an FTES recovery plan that restores the Center's student population. During the first three years of the agreement, the Center met or exceeded its FTES goals, and enrollment continues to increase at a very brisk pace. The Center grew from 2700 FTES in year one, to 3300 FTES in year two, and exceeded 4600 FTES in year three. With the success of the first three year FTES projections, a new three-year projection has been designed to continue restoring the Center's FTES levels. Since the 2008-09 enrollment exceeded 4600 FTES, Compton was funded on the basis of its actual FTES rather than under the guaranteed funding level specified in Assembly Bill 318.

The consistent annual growth of the Center's FTES has enabled the Center to build an annual net operating balance for this fiscal year. Projected annual growth is anticipated to fund the annual net operating balance going forward. FTES growth projections are a driving component of the 2009 Educational, Facilities, and Staffing plans for the Center. The 2009 Staffing Plan projects potential growth in certificated and classified staff at the Center. For fiscal year 2010-11, the Center has added five certificated positions (four instructors and one counselor) and five classified positions (two custodians, two admissions specialist, and one research analyst).

A remaining challenge for the Center is its reliance on the State loan of $17.8 million. The Center is up-to-date on its loan repayments. This loan is also providing needed cash flow for the Center during this time of delayed apportionment payments by the State.

Conclusion

The College has developed a fiscal management plan matched to revenues at all sites to assure the fiscal soundness of the institution. The CCCD has substantially improved its financial condition and attained relative stability.

Commission Concern 1: El Camino College should reevaluate its online course offerings and submit substantive change proposals where 50% or more of a program can be achieved online. (ER 21, Substantive Change Policy) The College may risk losing federal financial aid for programs that have not received substantive change approval.

The Distance Education Substantive Change Proposal was sent to the Commission on October 1, 2010.

Commission Concern 2: El Camino College should shorten its timeline for program review so there is a mechanism to support a closer integration of the program review, planning and resource allocation processes. (II.B.3, II.B.4, II.B.6)

The program review timeline has been modified from a six-year cycle to a four-year cycle. In anticipation of the increased demands for institutional research support to accommodate a four-year cycle, a new research analyst was hired.

In order to more closely integrate program review recommendations with planning and resource allocation processes, program review recommendations are prioritized and incorporated into the program's annual plan as goals. These goals are evaluated on a semi-annual basis. Based upon the evaluation, goals are deleted or carried forward into the next academic year. Annual plans allow programs to continually evaluate their accomplishments, to identify new needs, and to prioritize funding requests based upon current data.

Appendix 2 – PLANNING MODEL

El Camino College Planning Model

Planning components include institutional effectiveness measures that drive resource allocation.

MISSION STATEMENT

http://www.elcamino.edu/administration/ir/docs/planning/ECC\_strategicplan.pdf

STRATEGIC INITIATIVES

Strategic Initiative A

Enhance teaching to support student learning using a variety of instructional methods and services.

Strategic Initiative B

Strengthen quality educational and support services to promote student success.

Strategic Initiative C

Foster a positive learning environment and sense of community and cooperation through an effective process of collaboration and collegial consultation.

Strategic Initiative D

Develop and enhance partnerships with schools, colleges, universities, businesses, and community-based organizations to respond to the workforce training and economic development needs of the community.

Strategic Initiative E

Improve processes, programs, and services through the effective use of assessment, program review, planning, and resource allocation.

Strategic Initiative F

Support facility and technology improvements to meet the needs of students, employees, and the community.

Strategic Initiative G

Promote environmentally-sensitive processes and policies that move the College towards sustainable practices.

PROGRAM REVIEW

Program review is a process that asks members of a discipline or department to critically assess their program, identify necessary adjustments, and design a mechanism to institute, and evaluate proposed changes.

Desired outcomes from the program review process include evaluation of program effectiveness, program development and improvement, clarification and achievement of program goals, linkage of planning and budgeting through posting the recommendations into Plan Builder (described below), and compliance with accreditation and other mandated reviews.

CURRICULUM REVIEW

<http://www.elcamino.edu/academics/ccc/index.asp>

All courses, certificates and majors are reviewed by faculty within a six year cycle with vocational courses being reviewed on a two year cycle. Results from the reviews are incorporated into the discipline Program Review. Curriculum proposals are developed in the semester prior to their submission to the College Curriculum Committee (CCC). Course review can be expedited if circumstances warrant use of the Extenuating Circumstances procedure.

1. Submit proposals to Division Technical Review Curriculum Committee (DCC). (Department specific dates distributed.)
2. Forward proposals to the Curriculum Office in Academic Affairs on the assigned day. (Division specific submission dates distributed.)
3. Curriculum Office distributes proposals to the CCC for review two weeks prior to the meeting. (Curriculum Office specific dates distributed.)
4. CCC members forward comments and concerns to the CCC chair within one week.
5. Curriculum Advisor, Curriculum Chair, Vice President – Academic Affairs (VP-AA) or designee, academic dean, and faculty meet to review comments and concerns presented by the CCC one week prior to the CCC meeting.
6. Faculty and deans make revisions and develop an errata sheet for the CCC meeting.
7. Deans present curriculum proposals to the CCC with faculty authors in attendance to address CCC questions. Courses, programs, certificates, and degrees are endorsed for Board of Trustee approval.
8. New vocational certificates of achievement are submitted to the Los Angeles/Orange County Workforce Development Leaders (LOWDL) for recommendation and are forwarded to the Chancellor's Office for approval.
9. Academic certificates are forwarded directly to the Chancellor's Office.
10. The CCC approves its minutes via email.
11. VP-AA forwards curriculum to the Board of Trustees. (Board specific dates distributed.)
12. Courses approved within an academic year become active the following academic year. Courses may be offered earlier with approval from the VP-AA.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (SLOs) AND CORE COMPETENCIES

<http://www.elcamino.edu/academics/slo/>

Course- and Program-Level SLOs

SLOs can be described as measurable outcomes that students are expected to demonstrate by the end of a course, program, college experience, degree or certificate program, or a set of interactions with student services. SLOs involve higher order thinking skills and are measurable.

Student Learning Outcomes must be in place for every course and program offered through the college. The assessment of SLOs is ongoing: results are used to improve student learning and teaching practices, as well as to inform curricular and programmatic changes. Assessing an SLO involves the following steps:

Identify: Faculty and/or staff work together to identify the SLO, rubric / evaluation standards, and assessment method and timeline for a course or program. Section 1 of the “Student Learning Outcomes Assessment Report” form, found at <http://www.elcamino.edu/academics/slo/forms.asp>, is filled out and sent to the Assessment of Learning Committee at slo@elcamino.edu.

Assess: Faculty and/or staff perform the assessment, evaluate the assessment based on the rubric or evaluation standards, and compile the results. Section 2 of the “Student Learning Outcomes Assessment Report” form is filled out.

Reflect: Faculty and/or staff reflect on the assessment results as to how they may help to inform improvements to teaching practice as well as curricular or programmatic changes.

Section 3 of the “Student Learning Outcomes Assessment Report” form is filled out and the finished report is sent to the ALC at slo@elcamino.edu .

Improve: Improvements are made by the program’s faculty and/or staff in accordance with the reflection of the data. These improvements are recorded in the area’s program review. If a change requires additional funding, a recommendation may be added to the program’s list of recommendations in its program review and then sent on to become part of the program plan and go through the process for funding allocation.

The process is ongoing and cyclical.

The following timeline is in place for SLOs at the course and program levels:

Due Date	Task
Reports of assessed course-level SLOs due annually at the end of the third week of spring semester. (This means course-level SLOs should be assessed by fall semester of the previous year.)	Continue to assess existing course-level SLOs. Course outcome assessments take place throughout the year; assessment reports due annually at the end of the third week of spring semester. How many? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ For small programs (5 or fewer full-time faculty): two complete assessment cycles per year</li> <li>▪ For medium programs (6 to 12 full-time faculty): three complete assessment cycles per year</li> <li>▪ For large programs (13 or more full-time faculty): four complete assessment cycles per year</li> </ul> Note: After Fall 2010, course-level SLO assessment cycles tied to program review cycles (details will follow at a later time.)
Starting in 2011, reports of assessed program-level SLOs due at the end of the third week of fall semester. (This means that program-level SLOs should be assessed by the previous spring semester.)	Starting in 2011, program outcome assessments are tied to program review cycles (details will follow at a later time); assessment reports due at the end of the third week of fall semester.

Core Competencies

<http://www.elcamino.edu/academics/slo/corecomps.asp>

Core competencies describe what a student should be able to do based on a complete experience at El Camino College (i.e. completion of a program, certificate, or degree). Core competencies may be assessed by compiling and evaluating the results of SLO assessments at the program or course level, evaluating student artifacts, or compiling and evaluating survey data. The Assessment of Learning Committee (ALC) is responsible for determining the methods and timelines for assessing core competencies; however, the entire campus community is responsible for their assessment. The results are used to inform and improve college planning efforts and student learning.

Students completing a course of study at El Camino College will achieve the following core competencies:

1. Content Knowledge: Students possess and use the knowledge, skills and abilities specific to a chosen discipline, vocation or career.
2. Critical, Creative and Analytical Thinking: Students solve problems, make judgments and reach decisions using critical, creative and analytical skills.
3. Communication and Comprehension: Students effectively communicate in written, spoken or signed, and artistic forms to diverse audiences. Students comprehend and respectfully respond to the ideas of others.
4. Professional and Personal Growth: Students exhibit self-esteem, responsible behavior and personal integrity. Students are reflective and intellectually curious; they continue to improve themselves throughout life.
5. Community and Collaboration: Students appreciate local and global diversity and are respectful and empathetic during personal interactions and competitions. Students effectively collaborate and resolve conflicts. They are responsible, engaged members of society, who are willing and able to assume leadership roles.
6. Information and Technology Literacy: Students locate, critically evaluate, synthesize, and communicate information in various traditional and new media formats. Students understand the social, legal, and ethical issues related to information and its use.

In a process starting in the Spring semester of 2010, ECC will begin assessing these core competencies. Every year, the college will assess one core competency in the following order:

1. Communication and Comprehension (Fall 2010)
2. Critical, Creative, and Analytical Thinking (Fall 2011)
3. Professional and Personal Growth (Fall 2012)
4. Community and Collaboration (Fall 2013)
5. Information and Technology Literacy (Fall 2014)
6. Content Knowledge (Fall 2015)

Thus, core competency assessment will take place in a six-year cycle. Other core competencies may be added as needed; if this occurs, the core competency assessment cycle will be lengthened. Please see www.elcamino.edu/academics/slo/corecomps.asp for the complete core competency assessment plan.

The Process for Course- and Program-Level SLOs and Core Competencies:

ANNUAL PLANNING (Plan Builder)

<http://ecc-webapps1.elcamino.edu/pb/>

<http://eccplan/compb/>

Plan Builder is the name of the software used by the college for most planning purposes. The software is used to create plans and track progress made toward goals and objectives within the plans. Plans are either short-term (less than one year) or long-term (two to five years), some require funding while others are cost neutral, and all are reviewed and updated at least twice each academic year.

Plan Development Cycle

1. September – October: Each department reviews, updates, and inputs program review prioritized recommendations into their Program plan for the next fiscal year.
2. November - December: Each division reviews and prioritizes program goals and objectives and enters or rolls-over the information into the upcoming division Unit plan for the next fiscal year.
3. January – February: Vice Presidents meet with division managers to review and prioritize Unit plan goals and objectives to create a prioritized Area plan.
4. March - April: Vice Presidents present a list of prioritized goals and objectives for the college to PBC for discussion and funding endorsement.
5. May: PBC submits a list of endorsed funding requests to the President for consideration.

Plan Evaluation Cycle

1. January: Goals and objectives in current year plans are reviewed and evaluated for the first half of the fiscal year.
2. July: Goals and objectives in current year plans are reviewed and evaluated for the full fiscal year.

ENROLLMENT MANAGEMENT PLAN

http://www.elcamino.edu/administration/vpaa/enrollment\_mgmt.asp

The purpose of the Enrollment Management Plan is to create a responsive, flexible, educationally sound, research-based approach to enrollment management that will protect the college and its educational programs not only during periods when funding mechanisms and demographic trends are supporting enrollment growth, but also during periods when they are not.

The plan will rely upon data to ensure the following: the achievement of enrollment targets to obtain the maximum resources available to the college; maintenance of the greatest possible student access consistent with educational quality; a well-balanced and varied schedule responsive to the needs of our students and community; and a comprehensive educational program that is responsive to the needs of our students and community.

The funding component of the Enrollment Management Plan adheres to the following schedule.

1. January – February: The Enrollment Management Committee evaluates the effectiveness of the current year plan and uses it as the basis for the new fiscal year plan.
2. March - April: Vice Presidents present the Enrollment Management Plan to PBC for discussion and endorsement of the funding request.
3. May: PBC submits Enrollment Management Plan funding request concurrently with Plan Builder funding requests to the President for consideration.

COMPREHENSIVE MASTER PLAN

<http://www.elcamino.edu/administration/masterplan/cmplan.asp>.

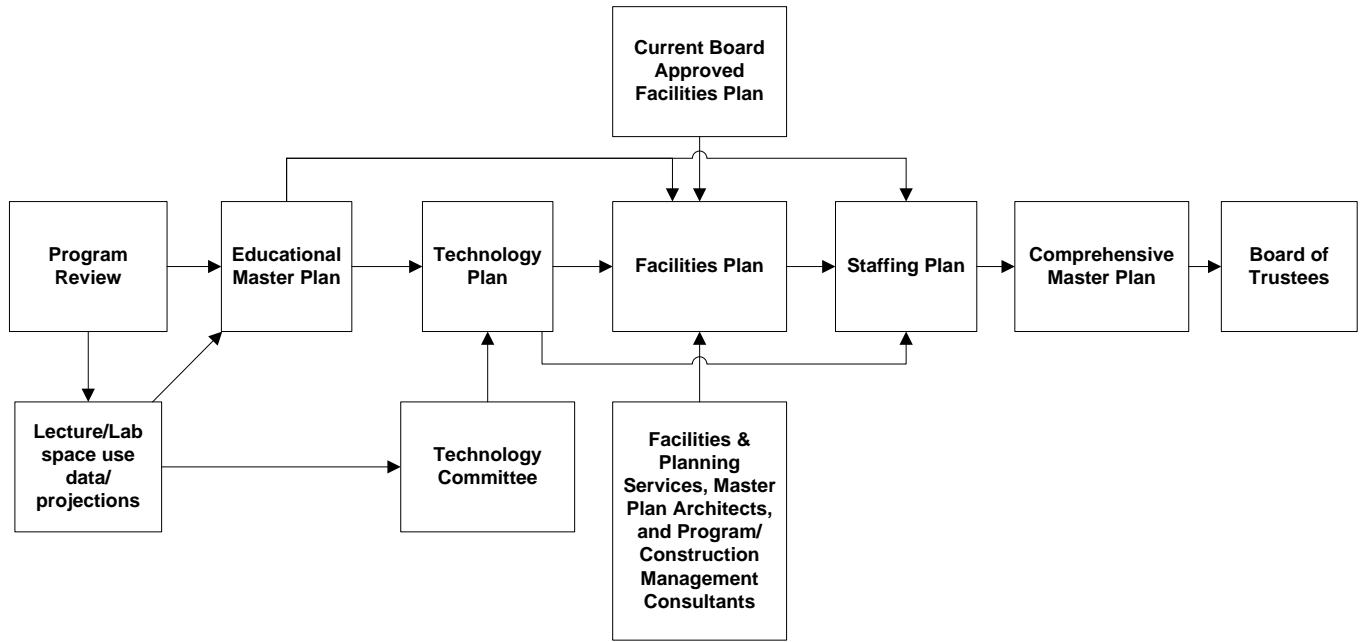

The Comprehensive Master Plan (CMP) contains four plans that build upon each other. The plans are titled Educational, Technology, Facilities, and Staffing. The CMP is a descriptive document that explains the current status of the college's programs, services, and resources and projects what will be needed to address student and community needs twenty years from now.

These longer term plans are submitted to the California Community College Chancellor's Office to show our building and infrastructure needs. Submission of these plans to the Chancellor's Office is required prior to embarking upon any building project plans for the college. The plans can also be used as back up documentation when seeking to be included in statewide bond initiatives.

A comprehensive master plan is typically built in a sequential manner starting with the Educational Plan. The Educational Plan is based upon program information created by faculty, staff, managers, and the Institutional Research Office. Program data is used in conjunction with building usage to determine space needs. Program data are used to project department technology and facilities needs throughout the college.

The Technology Plan is created by the campus Technology Committee and is derived from program information and campus-wide needs. The Educational and Technology Plans are used along with building square footage and usage data to create a Facilities Master Plan. An outcome of the Facilities Plan is a five-year capital construction plan. This five-year plan lists upcoming construction projects in the order they will occur with rough cost estimates.

A common thread seen in all three plans is the need to address staffing levels. The Staffing Plan provides information about each of the employee categories, hiring and evaluation practices, retirement, and training needs. All four plans contain planning agenda items at the conclusion of each plan as a means to indicate the steps the college is taking to address the needs brought forward in the plan.

Appendix 4: STUDENT JOB PLACEMENT CENTER PROGRAM REVIEW

Student Job Placement Center Program Review April 2010

I. Overview

A. Program Profile

The Student Job Placement Center provides students with an array of job opportunities and a direct link with employers to help the jobseeker find employment. This service is free of charge to students and employers. Throughout the year SJPC also coordinates job fairs and invites employers needing workers to meet and talk with prospective employees.

The computer lab offers a wide variety of services to students seeking full- and part-time jobs. The lab provides self-service and one-on-one personalized service from SJPC personnel to individuals. Assistance with resume and cover letter development and templates, access to the SJPC job database and Internet for job searches, fax service, and e-mail contact with employers are available through the computer lab.

SJPC Eligibility Policies for Clients and Students:

- Must be currently enrolled, an alumni, or a former ECC student who has completed a minimum of 15 ECC units

Services Extended to Employers:

- Job listings in our job program and a copy of the job opening(s) will be sent to on-campus employers, that is, the department or program relevant to the occupation. (The employer must guarantee a salary of at least minimum wage or more to be eligible for this service.)
- Job postings on the SJPC job bulletin board (for 4 weeks)
- Literature stands to display and distribute flyers
- Participation in the Annual Career Expo (requires registration fee) and mini-job fairs
- On-campus recruitment meetings to conduct interviews with students on a one-to-one basis
- Customized job recruitment and interview sessions tailored to the employer's needs
- Web link (general office info, calendar of events, job announcements)

II. Program Data

A. Student or Client Satisfaction

Utilizing the department SLO, “Students will learn how to access job and internship information and how to conduct Internet searches after meeting with a Student Job Placement Center staff member”, a survey was developed to gauge our level of student satisfaction and department performance. Commencing on 9/24/09, surveys were handed to first-time student visitors to the Student Job Placement Center. Survey forms were handed out until the end of the Fall 2009 semester for a total of 180 forms. To ensure survey completions, questions were kept at 2 and a section for comments. Students willing completed these surveys and the overall results of the surveys were 100% on understanding of the job search tools available, as well as the department meeting their expectations of services.

B. Student or Client Outcome Data

Year:	2010	2009	2008	2007
of Students Served	2,526	3,475	2,494	2,461
of New Job Postings	301	653	2,011	2,432
of New Employers	200	327	446	772
of Job Fair Participants	56	71	99	304

The data history for the past four years reflects a steady decline in most areas that are important indicators of job opportunities for students, that is, the number of students served, the number of new job postings, the number of new employers recruited, and the number of job fair participants solicited. Consequently, concerns received by SJPC from students about not getting part-time jobs are, unfortunately, well founded.

The number of employers in the SJPC database has declined dramatically from 772 in 2007, for example, to only 200 for the current year, which has only a few months of productivity left. Job postings have similarly dropped from a high of 2,432 in 2007 to 301 for the current year. This is a shocking decline of 88% in only four years. In contrast, the number of students conducting job searches and using SJPC services has remained fairly constant during the same time span. Large numbers of students are still looking for jobs, but there are far fewer opportunities being identified by the office.

Employer participation in job fairs also has declined. Four years ago, the office sponsored nine job fairs that attracted over 304 employers. This year, job fairs are at a low point, and the number of participating employers has also declined dramatically.

For a college with an enrollment of over 27,000 students this fall, even with only three individuals, the office’s service numbers are cause for concern.

At one time, two full-time employees had the responsibility of job development (promoting and presenting the job fairs, off-campus marketing, and recruiting employers to expand the employer database). It is a major undertaking. The job fairs were so important that the office had a committee and got participation from other college departments. Having a part-time staff member in charge of job development has resulted in minimal job postings and employer contacts.

The reduction in emphasis on community and employer outreach and the corresponding concentration of SJPC resources on internships and workshops have resulted in reduced contact with employers and fewer job referrals for students. The shift of SJPC resources to develop the internship program has been largely unproductive.

III. Program Requirements

B. Facilities and Equipment

Existing facility and computer equipment adequately meet the needs of student who use the computer lab and the employees in SJPC.

C. Staffing

SJPC currently has two permanent classified employees working with employers to advertise jobs and assist students with their job search and resume development, and a part-time temporary classified employee who coordinates job fairs and outreach to the private sector. In addition, SJPC employs 2-4 work-study students each year to supplement the workload.

2 - Student Services Technicians: Duties include the following:

- Input job data from employers and maintain job database
- Collect data and provide reports
- Assist students with job searches for on-campus, off-campus, and online employment opportunities
- Assist and critique resumes and cover letter development
- Provide students with reference material
- Provide fax service
- Liaison with employers, faculty, and staff
- Order supplies and answer phones
- Supervise student workers

1 - Part-Time Student Services Advisor: Duties include the following:

- Outreach to private sector to develop job opportunities
- Coordinate campus job fairs and job-related activities
- Conduct workshops

Federal Work-Study Students - Duties include the following:

- Front counter/customer service
- Assist students with job searches
- Phone and faxing

Future Staffing Needs:

The number of new jobs continues to decline from last year's tallies taken at this same point in time. However, the number of students seeking jobs and employment services remains surprisingly high.

At its peak in 2002, SJPC (then the Job Placement Center) had seven full-time employees and four casual/paraprofessional employees. The computer lab consisted of nine computer stations. Today, all that remains are two full-time student services technicians and one part-time student services advisor, as well as a four-station computer lab. A larger staff was required in 2002 because the Center used to process all paperwork for the hiring of casual and student workers for the College. The Center also handled nearly all of the aspects of the Financial Aid Office Federal Work Study program. Since that time Federal Work Study has been moved completely out of the Center and back into the Financial Aid office, and all processing of casual and student employment for the College has been moved to Human resources.

In light of the current economic situation and the likelihood that job growth over the next several years will be minimal, two scenarios should be considered:

Scenario #1:

Eliminate the Student Job Placement Center office and relocate the two Student Services Technicians to other departments within Student Services. The current job classifications are inadequate to maintain the department and growth is not possible based upon their job classification. Students will continue to be served by providing current job openings through the Portal. The Enrollment Services Division Office would take over the task of receiving and posting job openings. Students will contact employers directly for questions or submission of applications.

Scenario #2:

Reclassify both Student Services Technicians to Student Services Advisors. With this higher classification, the department can promote jobs and services both on campus and within the community. In addition, the student placement function of the Federal Work Study program should be moved from the Financial Aid Office back to SJPC (freeing up the Financial Aid Advisor to focus primarily on financial aid services). As advisors, the staff will continue to coordinate job fairs and actively reach out to employers to increase job postings to students.

Personnel Type	Current Level		Adequate staffing in 3 - 5 years		Retirement
	# of Staffing	FTE	# of Staffing	FTE	# of Staffing	FTE
Full-time Classified Staff	2	2.0
Part-time Classified (Temporary)	1	0.8
Student Employees	4	2.0

D. Planning

Major Changes and Trends

1. A job program that will be accessible through MyECC is in the final stages of development in ITS. The new job program allows students and ECC employees to view on- and off-campus job opportunities, as well as employment news and announcements from the convenience of their own home. The new system will also aid in the promotion of the SJPC, post job openings instantly to job seekers, and create a larger pool of job applicants for employers.

2. Permanent funding for a casual or student worker is required if the SJPC will remain open.
3. Because the expansion of the internship program in the past several years has resulted in violations of Title 5 and college policy, and was likely helping employers to recruit free student workers instead of interns, plans have been initiated to phase out all internships. A strategy should be developed, however, to educate prospective employers of interns so that their needs are satisfied instead by persuading them to hire El Camino College students for pay.
4. Further staff development for the full-time SJPC student services technicians should be pursued by appropriate workshop and conference attendance.
5. Data for the past four years show conclusively that the office's current process for developing job opportunities for students and a database of potential employers of students has not been successful. Aggressive action needs to be taken if placement services for students are to remain as a viable service for the College's students and the employer community.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs):

1. Students will learn how to access job and internship information and how to conduct Internet searches after participating in the Student Job Placement Center tutorial.
2. Students will know the important components of creating effective cover letters and resumes after attending a presentation by an SJPC staff member.

IV. Recommendations

After a thorough review of the department and its services, it is recommended that the Student Job Placement Center be eliminated. SJPC's services are underutilized and the staffing is inadequate to maintain the department. The main function of providing students with job openings is being moved to the Portal, which enables students to search for jobs online. Each of the duties listed under III. C. for the Student Services Technician and part-time (non-cert) Student Services Advisor are addressed in the chart below:

Duty	Current	Proposed
Input job data from employers and maintain job database	Student Services Technicians	Enrollment Services Division Office

Appendix 5 – ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES PROGRAM REVIEW TEMPLATE

Program Review Process for Administrative Support Services

The Self-Evaluation Process for Administrative Support Services

The suggested topics are meant to serve as guidelines for the self-evaluation process and the preparation of the report. The report may expand upon or exclude some of the topics below, at the discretion of the unit staff.

Program Description and Goals

Describe the service under review, emphasizing the unit's goals, its impact on student success, (if applicable), and how the unit supports the broader college mission.

1. Goals might include delivery of a specific service, or other activities directed at providing support to the institution or to students.
2. Discuss how the unit evaluates its effectiveness in meeting ECC's institutional mission.
3. If the unit's goals have changed since the last self-evaluation, explain how and why they have changed.
4. If applicable, summarize modifications made since the program's last self-evaluation. Show how the changes responded to changing needs, technologies, external requirements, or other relevant factors.
5. Describe how the unit engages all members in the discussion, review, assessment and revision of unit goals.
6. Describe notable achievements since your last self-evaluation.

Program Improvement

Discuss how the unit addresses improvement.

1. What activities has your unit engaged in to improve the administrative support service?
2. What changes have been made based on the result of the assessed outcomes?

Program Environment

1. If the unit operates during other than normal business hours, describe how the scheduled hours meet the needs of other units/programs/students and indicate the specific hours the unit operates.
2. Describe the influences that external factors, such as state laws, changing demographics, and the characteristics of the students served have on the structure and services and how the unit addresses these factors.
3. Describe the interactions between this unit and other units/programs on campus and any particular influences these have on the ability of the unit to meet its goals.

Program Effectiveness

Describe how the program evaluates unit effectiveness and its impact on the institution.

Conclusions & Recommendations

Present any conclusions and recommendations resulting from the self-evaluation process, referencing the specific topics above. Include information on how the unit engages all unit members in the self-evaluation dialogue and how everyone participates in the program review process.

1. Summarize your areas of strength and areas that need improvement.
2. Identify strategies for the future. Discuss any projected changes and anticipate how the changes may affect staffing, facilities, equipment, and other operational areas.

Sources of Information

Administrative units may refer to the following sources of information in the self-evaluation process:

1. Program goals statements.
2. Reports from Institutional Research and state and federal sources.
3. Results of any research projects undertaken by the unit to examine any relevant area of interest.

Appendix 7 – CORE COMPETENCY STATEMENTS and CORE COMPETENCY ASSESSMENT PLAN

Students completing a course of study at El Camino College will achieve the following core competencies:

1. Content Knowledge: Students possess and use the knowledge, skills and abilities specific to a chosen discipline, vocation or career.
2. Critical, Creative and Analytical Thinking: Students solve problems, make judgments and reach decisions using critical, creative and analytical skills.
3. Communication and Comprehension: Students effectively communicate in written, spoken or signed, and artistic forms to diverse audiences. Students comprehend and respectfully respond to the ideas of others.
4. Professional and Personal Growth: Students exhibit self-esteem, responsible behavior and personal integrity. Students are reflective and intellectually curious; they continue to improve themselves throughout life.
5. Community and Collaboration: Students appreciate local and global diversity and are respectful and empathetic during personal interactions and competitions. Students effectively collaborate and resolve conflicts. They are responsible, engaged members of society, who are willing and able to assume leadership roles.
6. Information and Technology Literacy: Students locate, critically evaluate, synthesize, and communicate information in various traditional and new media formats. Students understand the social, legal, and ethical issues related to information and its use.

In a process starting in the Spring semester of 2010, ECC will begin assessing these core competencies. Every year, the college will assess one core competency in the following order:

1. Communication and Comprehension (Fall 2010)
2. Critical, Creative, and Analytical Thinking (Fall 2011)
3. Professional and Personal Growth (Fall 2012)
4. Community and Collaboration (Fall 2013)
5. Information and Technology Literacy (Fall 2014)
6. Content Knowledge (Fall 2015)

Then, the order will repeat starting in Fall 2016. Thus, core competency assessment will take place in a six-year cycle. Other core competencies may be added later on as needed; if this happens, the core competency assessment cycle will be lengthened.

Mapping Course- and Program-Level SLOs to the Core Competencies

In order to start the process of assessing core competencies, during spring flex 2010, the college will map their courses and programs to the core competencies. That is, for each course, the faculty will determine which core competencies match up with the outcomes for that course; at the program level, the faculty will determine which core competencies match up with the outcomes for their program. This will accomplish several things:

1. One of the ways that the college plans to assess these core competencies is by survey. Thus, the mapping will help the college determine which courses may be targeted for administering the survey.
2. An additional way that the college plans to assess the core competencies is by matching the survey results to student grades in the courses which align with the core competency being assessed. Thus, mapping will help the college determine which course grades should be included.
3. A third way that the college plans to assess these core competencies is by having the faculty rate their students in the various competencies. Thus, the mapping will help the college determine which courses should be targeted for this rating.
4. The mapping will help faculty determine whether or not they have a complete list of SLOs for their courses and programs and whether the SLOs they currently have match up with the college's core competencies.

Methods for Assessing the Core Competencies:

The college will collect data for each of the core competencies in three ways:

1. Student Survey: For each core competency, the Assessment of Learning committee will develop a survey to assess to what extent students feel they have met the core competencies. The survey will be administered in courses which rate a "4=very important" for the core competency being measured and which tend to be ones that students take at the end of their studies at ECC. Students particularly targeted for the survey will be ones who are about to graduate with a degree or certificate from the college; however, in the process of administering the survey, students at various stages of their studies will be surveyed. This will give the college a good means to compare achievement of core competencies between students at various stages.
2. Faculty Survey: The faculty whose courses were targeted for the student survey will then be asked to rate their students with respect to the core competency being assessed. They will be asked to rate student competence in general, not with respect to specific skills within the competency.
3. Course Grades: In the process of surveying students, the college will collect the identity numbers of these students and match them to their course grades. Then the college will pull out only the grades from courses where the core competency being assessed played a significant role (determined by mapping). The college will average these grades in order to compare them with the survey averages. The college will not look at grades of individual students nor will it disaggregate grades based on individual instructor. In this way, the college insures the privacy of students and instructors.

Reporting the Results:

After the data is collected, a core competency summit will be planned to bring together faculty, staff, and managers from various parts of the college to reflect on the data. These summits will take place on the Friday of the Assessment of Student Learning Week. (the tenth week of the semester). After reflection and input from summit participants, the Assessment of Learning Committee will be responsible for writing and disseminating a report.

The Summit:

1. Faculty and staff who have performed assessment in the core competency area being assessed will be asked to give a short presentation on their findings and conclusions. At the end of these presentations, a facilitator will ask summit participants to think about commonalities and differences in the presented assessment studies.
2. The Assessment of Learning Committee will present the data from the core competency assessment.
3. Summit participants will be broken into groups based on their general area of the campus (e.g. Basic Skills, GE, CTE, etc.). The groups will be asked to reflect on the data and its implications for their particular area.
4. The groups will report out their findings and conclusions.

Core Competency III: Communication and Comprehension

In the spring of 2010, El Camino College’s Core Competency III was assessed to determine how well exiting students<sup>1</sup> have mastered the following “Communication and Comprehension” competency.

III. Students effectively communicate in written, spoken or signed, and artistic forms to diverse audiences. Students comprehend and respectfully respond to the ideas of others.

Methodology

El Camino College assessed the Communication and Comprehension core competency in courses that are typically taken as students exit the college (either through degree/certificate completion or transfer to a 4-year institution) in order to create the greatest opportunity to gain such skills through interaction with the College. These included advanced career/technical courses, transfer-level courses, and transferrable English and math courses.

The assessment of this core competency was conducted in two ways:

1. Student self-assessment of aspects of the Communication and Comprehension core competency
2. Faculty assessment of students' overall competency of Communication and Comprehension
3. Academic performance of exiting students courses with an emphasis in communication and comprehension

Sample Selection

Student self-assessments and faculty assessments of students were carried out for a sampling of sections from courses that students typically take towards the end of their time at El Camino College. Two samples of sections were taken:

1. Random sample of sections: Both Student and Faculty Assessments
2. Purposeful sample of sections (aka "volunteers"): Student Self-Assessment Only

The intention of adding a second, purposeful sample was to gather more information and promote greater discussion of results by including sections of faculty participants who serve on the Assessment of Learning Committee or are active in Student Learning Outcomes assessment at El Camino College or Compton Center. This first assessment also serves as a pilot to determine how best the College should evaluate each core competency in the future. Therefore, active contribution from faculty on the design and results of the assessment was important. Since the student self-assessment is the primary source of detailed competency feedback, only this piece of the assessment was distributed to the volunteers.

Final Sample Size

For the Spring 2010 assessment, faculty from a total of 16 sections returned the student surveys. Eight faculty completed the faculty assessment of students. A total of 440 students submitted self-evaluations (margin of error:  $\pm 4.6\%$ ). Faculty submitted evaluations on 287 students (margin of error:  $\pm 5.7\%$ ).

Table 1: Sample Selection and Size

Surveyed Group – Section Count			Evaluations Received
Location	Random	Volunteers	Student	Faculty
Compton	1	3
Torrance	7	5
Total	8	8	440	287

Student Self-Assessment Results

Students were asked to rate their own competence with respect to five skills or activities that reflect aspects of Communication and Comprehension. Students rated themselves using the following scale:

- 5 = very competent (easily able to do the activity at school or work)
- 4 = mostly competent
- 3 = somewhat competent
- 2 = slightly competent
- 1 = not competent

Mean scores were calculated from 412 valid responses for each activity (Table 2, “Mean” column). All mean scores rated well above 3 (“somewhat competent”), with all but one activity rating over 4 (“mostly competent”). The lowest scoring items were communicating a message through art and the highest by far was expressing your own ideas. Of note were the mean scores that were close to 4 which include delivering a presentation and communicating ideas to diverse audiences. No students believed that they were “not competent” in writing a paper and respectfully critiquing and discussing ideas of others (see Appendix).

It is very likely that all students exiting El Camino College would rating themselves above 3.5 on the art communication activity, above 3.8 on delivering a presentation and communicating to diverse audiences, and above 4.0 on all others (Table 2, “Population Means” columns).

Table 2: Mean Scores by Activity – Student Self-Assessment

Activity/Skill	Mean*	Population Means*
Writing a paper	4.25	4.06	4.45
Delivering a presentation	4.01	3.82	4.19
Communicating a message through art	3.70	3.53	3.87
Expressing your own ideas	4.41	4.21	4.61
Respectfully critiquing and discussing the ideas of others	4.27	4.07	4.46
Communicating an idea to diverse audiences	4.06	3.87	4.25

* The “Mean” column represents the self-assessment rating from the sample. The mean rating of ALL students (had they all been surveyed) would likely fall inside the range of scores under “Population Means.” Additional descriptive statistics can be found in the appendix of this report.

In terms of raw percentage responses (see Appendix), over 74% of students indicated that they were “mostly” or “very competent,” except for communicating a message through art. Further, well over 80% of students assessed themselves in these categories in terms of writing a paper, expressing one’s own ideas, respectfully critiquing and discussing ideas of others.

Faculty Assessment of Students

Faculty from selected sections (described above) were asked to give a holistic rating of general competence of their students in the areas of communication and comprehension. A total of 8 faculty submitted student assessments in 8 sections (N=281 valid responses). Using the same scale as the student self-assessment, the average rating was 3.52 (If all students were assessed, the average rating would fall within the 3.32 – 3.72 range), placing El Camino College’s exiting students into the “somewhat” to “mostly competent” range of the scale as assessed by faculty. This overall rating is lower than most of the average scores for the activities associated with this competency on the self-assessment.

Course Grades

During the student self-assessment phase, ID numbers were collected so that historical enrollments and course grade performance could be collected from exiting students. Due to the fact that course enrollment and grade information are divided by instructional location, parallel course grade information is provided for both the ECC Torrance campus and Compton Center—its purpose is to inform rather than compare. Overall, exiting students performed well in their courses where Communication and Comprehension were emphasized (courses that were rated with a maximum score of 4 in terms of coverage of this Core Competency were included in this analysis).

For the Torrance campus, success and retention rates were 81% and 90%, respectively, for these courses. At the Compton Center, students achieved success and retention rates of 74% and 85%, respectively, in these courses. Although these rates are higher than overall college rates, comparison is inappropriate since this analysis does not include all courses that students take during their college careers. Overall GPAs in Communication and Comprehension courses were healthy for ECC and Compton at 3.20 and 2.83, respectively.

On average, exiting students at the Torrance campus enrolled in 8 to 9 courses that emphasized this core competency during their career. At Compton Center, students enrolled in between 5 and 6 Communication and Comprehension courses.

Conclusion

This report summarized the assessment process for Core Competency III: Communication and Comprehension, the first in a series of assessments of El Camino College's core competencies. In general, the vast major of exiting ECC students rate themselves as mastering skills of communication and comprehension, except in areas such as the arts, a field of study in which perhaps fewer students have participated. Highest rated skills include writing, and the expression and discussion of ideas. Holistic competency ratings of respondents by their instructors yielded somewhat lower average assessments of competency, but with an average well above "somewhat" competent. Finally, analysis of course grades in this competency showed high performance in terms of course success, retention and GPA for exiting students in courses with greater emphasis on communication and comprehension, with students enrolled in numerous courses with this emphasis. Student comments were classified and summarized in the Appendix. Individual (anonymous) student comments will be available at a later date. One follow-up assessment is planned for this core competency, which involves a parallel assessment of "entering" students to help estimate the growth that students experience in this competency. That process is planned for Fall 2010. The remaining core competencies will be assessed in future years according to the Core Competency Assessment Plan.

Appendix – Additional Information

This appendix contains additional statistical information for each assessment along with comments that students shared on their self-assessment.

Descriptive Statistics – Student Self-Assessment

Activity/Skill	N	Min.	Max.	Mean	Std. Dev.

Delivering a presentation	414	1	5	4.01	0.930
Communicating a message through art	405	1	5	3.70	1.056
Expressing your own ideas	426	1	5	4.41	0.762
Respectfully critiquing/discussing others' ideas	405	2	5	4.27	0.813
Communicating an idea to diverse audiences	436	1	5	4.06	0.874

Comments – Student Self-Assessment

Students were asked to list one to three experiences that contributed most to their skills in communication and comprehension. These experiences were combined into one list and categorized by theme and summarized. The table below shows 688 out of the 900 individual comments categorized (76%). Only categories with more than 10 responses were included. Some overlap occurred since in some cases multiple themes are found in a single response.

“To initiate a formal evaluation, the Dean shall send the tenured faculty member, and his or her Division Chair, a notice informing them that the faculty member will be evaluated as provided in this article and, if a comprehensive evaluation is not already required by Section 10.2.a, describing how the form of the evaluation will be determined.” (Article X, Section 10.2.b.

Article X of the Agreement between the District and AFT provides that all tenured faculty members will be evaluated every three academic years. It also specifies that the form of the evaluation will alternate between a basic evaluation and a comprehensive evaluation unless the faculty member elects to receive a comprehensive evaluation or the faculty member's Dean or Division Chair calls for a comprehensive evaluation.

The District’s records show that you are due for an evaluation this year and according to Section 10.2.a, the form of the evaluation will be a:

- Basic Evaluation to be conducted as prescribed in Section B.3
- Comprehensive Evaluation to be conducted as prescribed in Section B.4

If a Basic Evaluation is indicated, you have the right to elect to receive a Comprehensive Evaluation instead. If you wish to exercise that right, please complete the following and return this notice to me by [insert date] _____ .

JUNE 30, 2007

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
Compton Community College District
Compton, California

We have audited the accompanying basic financial statements of the Compton Community College District (the District) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2007, as listed in the Table of Contents. These basic financial statements are the responsibility of the District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as described in the following paragraphs, we conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall basic financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As more fully described in Note 5 to the financial statements, the District has not taken a physical inventory of all District-owned capital assets and has not properly safeguarded their existence. Additionally, one building is the subject of possible structural impairment.

Grant award receipts and expenditures and the related accounts receivable and payable were not properly accounted for within the various individual programs. The scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the financial activity of the grant revenues and expenditures and related accounts receivable and payable.

Detailed accounting records and supporting data for the Associated Student Body Fund of the District were not maintained and available for our audit. Therefore, we were not able to satisfy ourselves about the amounts at which these balances are recorded within the accompanying financial statements. The scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the financial activity of the Associated Student Body Fund.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as may be determined to be necessary when the physical inventory of capital assets is taken, and any adjustments to the grant awards as discussed in the preceding paragraphs, the basic financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Compton Community College District as of June 30, 2007, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows, for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Compton Community College District will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1 and Note 14 to the financial statements, the District has lost its accreditation and no longer offers educational services directly to students. Additionally, the State of California has provided a $30 million loan against future apportionments to assist with operating requirements during this transition period. Due to the ongoing operational and financial difficulties, substantial doubt has been raised about the District's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

As more fully discussed in Note 12 to the financial statements, the District is a party to several Federal Agency audits and litigation claims. The outcome of these audits and claims is not known.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated March 27, 2008, on our consideration of the District's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

The Management's Discussion and Analysis, as listed in the Table of Contents, is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the District's management. We have applied certain limited procedures, consisting principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District's basic financial statements. The supplementary information listed in the Table of Contents, including the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, which is required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and the Schedule of Expenditures of State Awards, which is required by the California State System's Office, Contracted District Audit Manual, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements. We were unable to gather sufficient audit evidence related to individual grant and program activity, including revenues and expenditures, and the related accounts receivable and deferred revenue, to enable us to express an opinion on these schedules. Accordingly, we express no opinion on them.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
Compton Community College District
Compton, California

We have audited the accompanying basic financial statements of the business-type activities of the Compton Community College District (the District) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2008, as listed in the Table of Contents. These basic financial statements are the responsibility of the District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as described in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall basic financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Detailed accounting data supporting the accounts receivable related to the student enrollment fees were not maintained and available for our audit. We were unable to satisfy ourselves about the balance at which the accounts receivable were recorded within these financial statements. The scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the financial presentation of the student accounts receivable and the possible affect on the related enrollment fee revenue.

Detailed accounting records and supporting data for the Associated Student Body Fund of the District were not maintained and available for our audit. Therefore, we were not able to satisfy ourselves about the amounts at which these balances are recorded within the accompanying financial statements and the activity through the fund during the year. The scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the financial activity of the Associated Student Body Fund.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as may be determined to be necessary in relation to the student accounts receivable and associated revenue and the Associated Student Body Fund as discussed in the preceding paragraphs, in our opinion, the basic financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the business-type activities of the Compton Community College District as of June 30, 2008, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As more fully discussed in Note 15 to the financial statements, the District's current financial health and sustainability is dependent upon funding from the State System's Office at levels that are not currently being met through the enrollment of students and the reporting of the related full-time equivalent students (FTES). The District is also reliant on the continued ability to access a $30 million line of credit from the State of California.

As more fully discussed in Note 16 to the financial statements, certain errors resulting in overstatement of previously reported asset and liability balances as of June 30, 2007, were discovered by management of the District during the current year. Accordingly, an adjustment has been made to the net assets as of July 1, 2007, to correct the errors.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 30, 2009, on our consideration of the District's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and is important for assessing the results of our audit.

The Management's Discussion and Analysis, as listed in the Table of Contents, is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the District's management. We have applied certain limited procedures, consisting principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District's basic financial statements. The supplementary information listed in the Table of Contents, including the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, which is required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

F. CHANGE ORDER – HPS MECHANICAL – PHASE 3 INFRASTRUCTURE

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the following change order.

- |  |           |
|--|-----------|
| 1. Extend concrete paving and parking lot drop off zone east of the Marsee Auditorium to provide for emergency vehicle access. Demolish an existing site lighting standard along the access road south of the Marsee Auditorium, per District request. Increase the concrete and asphalt base material at the Marsee Auditorium parking lot and walkway in order to increase the strength of the pavement section due to the presence of weak sub grade soil. Geotechnical Engineer request. | $74,983  |
| 2. Increased scope of work for excessive concrete removal of existing planters due to unforeseen/undocumented conditions in the walkway between the North Gym/Student Services and Health Center/Art buildings.  | $22,780  |
| 3. Eliminate planters and relocate site lighting along the walkway west of the Social Science building. District request.  | -$13,123 |
| 4. Reroute site lighting conduit to provide separate circuits and balance the circuit loading in the site lighting system east of the Bookstore.   | $4,766   |
| 5. Sandblast existing concrete panels in the walkway north of the Art building in lieu of installing new precast concrete panels. District request.  | -$2,242  |
| 6. Provide structural footings to support an existing hydronics vault that was discovered without proper support, located in the walkway between the Music and Art & Behavioral Science buildings. District request.   | $910     |
| 7. Provide an alternate gas water heater at the Music building. District request.  | -$600    |
| 8. Remove and replace a 4" domestic water pipe due to deteriorated condition of the existing pipe located between the Art & Behavioral Science and South Gym buildings. District request.  | $5,788   |
| 9. Provide and install additional storm drain pipe and area drain west of the Student Services building to prevent water ponding in the walkway. District Request.   | $3,066   |

10. Provide a concrete vault lid on the existing utility trench tunnel between the Swimming Pool and Physical Education buildings for access to the existing hydronic lines underneath the walkway. District request.	$1,643
11. Provide asphalt walkway at the northwest corner of the Music building to connect two adjacent walkways. District request.	$295
