El Camino College Forensics Team Wins National Title

For the second year in a row, the El Camino College debate team won the National Championship Season Sweepstakes for community colleges, bringing home its third national championship in four years.

El Camino College also finished the year in sixth place among the 240 universities in the National Parliamentary Debate Association.

The rankings are based upon each school's finish at its best four tournaments of the season. El Camino College debate team members compete against two- and four-year colleges/universities throughout the year.

After spring break, the debate team will attend the community college national tournament in Chicago.
