El Camino College Public Relations Department Honored with Writing Award

The El Camino College Public Relations & Marketing Department recently won a writing award in a statewide competition for a news release about graduates in the Class of 2008.

The statewide Community College Public Relations Organization (CCPRO) gave the award to El Camino College for a story about 2008 graduate Lisa Youngworth who was proud when her identical twin sons graduated from El Camino College last year. Brothers Nicolas and Andrew Lippa were just as proud their mother – she graduated with them.

The statewide CCPRO is a professional development and service organization that serves as a central resource of information and provides counsel and assistance relating to the advancement of community colleges statewide.
