El Camino Community College District Boundary Review Committee Welcomes Written Comments through November 30

The El Camino Community College District Boundary Review Committee (BRC) recently completed a series of five public forums to gather input regarding modifications of current trustee area boundaries. The district, along with many other public agencies and school districts in California, is examining voting practices.

Members of the public may submit comments through November 30 by going to <http://www.elcamino.edu/administration/board/brc/index.asp>. Community members may also create and submit maps indicating communities of interest through an interactive redistricting map. All comments must be submitted by November 30.

In Fall 2010, the El Camino Community College District (ECCCD) Board of Trustees initiated discussions regarding the process required to modify trustee area boundaries and change from “at large” to “trustee area” elections. New trustee areas would be determined utilizing 2010 census population data.
