El Camino College to Present Career Expo 2007

The El Camino College office of Career Placement Services will join with the Daily Breeze, Pizza Hut, Vons, and Jobing.com to co-sponsor the El Camino College 26th Annual Career Expo 2007, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. April 26 in the library lawn area.

The Career Expo is open to students, alumni, and the community, and will feature more than 100 exhibitors and campus departments and programs. This event brings together job seekers, recruiters, and faculty members in an outdoor setting to allow potential employers of El Camino College students and alumni to provide career information and discuss issues of shared common interest. Admission is free.

The Career Expo is a great way for exhibitors to showcase their company, distribute literature, meet face-to-face with prospective employees, and collect resumes. This is also a time when students can explore career choices, employment and internship opportunities, network with professionals, and learn about the different departments, programs, and services at El Camino College.

Some activities scheduled for the day are campus department demonstrations and an informal ceremony at noon to present to the Career Expo's four sponsors a proclamation from the City of Torrance, an award of appreciation, and a gift of appreciation from Career Placement Services.
