

Who Wants to Be a Candy-naire?*

1. MLA stands for

- A. Modern Learners Association.
- B. Modern Language Association.
- C. Mama Laughs Association.

2. Which one of these in-text citations is standard MLA?

- A. (Zhao, page 28).
- B. (Zhao, 28).
- C. (Zhao: 28).
- D. (Zhao 28).

3. What tense should you use when discussing published works?

- A. Past.
- B. Present.
- C. Present perfect.
- E. Any.

4. When quoting, you

- A. Do not need to use quotation marks in most cases.
- B. May change the original words when needed.
- C. Should be exact, accurate and selective.

5. When paraphrasing, you

- A. Use the author's words with no quotation marks.
- B. Don't need to cite the source.
- C. Present the author's ideas in your own words.
- D. Use the same sentence pattern.

6. Which of the following is not true regarding a summary?

- A. A summary is much shorter than the original.
- B. In your own words, you discuss the gist of the whole source.
- C. You may quote some key words in a summary.
- D. You don't need to introduce or cite the source.

---

* Designed by Dr. Joy Zhao, El Camino College, this game-quiz models the well-known TV show 'Who Wants to Be a Millionaire' and aims to provide a competitive and fun learning activity. The instructor is to ask the famous question 'Is that your final answer?' after a competitor makes a choice and to allow the use of the group life-line.

7. When quoting a long quote--more than 4 typed lines, which of the following should you not do?

- A. You introduce the source first.
- B. You put the long quote in a separate and indented paragraph.
- C. You use quotation marks.
- D. You cite the source at the end of the long quote.

8. Which source use in the following is not acceptable?

- A. "Laughter [...] is the best way to handle stress" (Zhao 56).
- B. To Dr. Zhao, "They [today's college students] have a lot of potential for research" (qtd. in Lauer 3).
- C. As Mark Twain once said, a bad conscience is hair in the mouth (Zhao 6).
- D. Quite a few scholars see multiple levels of meaning in Henry James's story "The Real Thing" (e.g., Lee 35; Smith 19; Zhao 88).

9. Which bibliography entry in the following is not standard, and why?

- A. Adams, Joey. Joey Adams' Encyclopedia of Humor. New York: Bonanza, 1968.
- B. Benchley, Robert. "Stop Those Hiccoughs!" Prescription: Laughter. Ed. William Adler. New York: Harcourt, Brace and World, 1968. 117-119.
- C. Jerry Adler. How Stress Attacks You. Newsweek June 14, 1999: 56-63.
- D. Brown, James R. "Thought Experiments." Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy. Stanford University. 1996. 3 August 2003
<<http://plato.stanford.edu/entries/thought-experiment.html>>