How to Become a Certified Therapy Dog Handler: Introductory #210184

In this introductory class, you'll learn the most expedient and cost-effective way to become registered as a Dog Therapy Handler with recognized local, regional, and national dog-therapy agencies.

Anyone who has felt a connection with a pet and experienced that joy of unconditional love, understanding, and acceptance, knows the value of a pet's companionship. These qualities make animals, particularly dogs, ideal therapeutic visitors that bring smiles to patients in hospitals, calm travelers at airports, calm child witnesses during court proceedings, make good listeners for children learning to read, help victims of natural and man-made disasters, and newer emerging applications.

In this 3-hour course, you'll not only see a real-life therapy dog demonstration, but also learn about what it takes to become a certified therapy dog handler and how you can determine if you're a good fit for this type of service. Course includes an in-depth explanation of the entire process, the many facility options to choose from, examples of written and live dog handling testing, and post-class support. Note: Please do not bring your dog to class.

Preparing for the Therapy Dog Handler Evaluation: Advanced #210185

NEW!
In this advanced course, you'll learn precisely how to prepare for the therapy dog written test and live dog handling evaluation. Therapy dog handler evaluations have two parts, or as we say, "two ends of the leash." One part tests the handler's control and treatment of their dog and interpersonal skills; the other part tests the dog's ability to effectively and reliably provide comfort to people, under adverse conditions, in a variety of facilities and situations. This three-hour class combines lecture, live demonstrations and videos of several therapy dog evaluations, used by different registering agencies, as well as reviews and prepares you for the written portion of the certification process. Post class support will also be provided. Note: Please do not bring your dog to class.

Saturday, October 1, 2016
1:00 PM - 4:00 PM

Tuition: $45
