

Recommended Web Sites for Research and/or Teaching

Industry and Technology

General

- *USA.gov <http://www.usa.gov>

This site is the U.S. government's official portal for information and services. It is organized into four major areas: "Get Services," "Explore Topics," "Find Government Agencies," and "Contact Government." There is also a keyword search function provided.

Energy

- *Southern California Edison Energy Education Centers
https://www.sce.com/wps/portal/home/business/consulting-services/energy-education-centers!/ut/p/b0/04_Sj9CPykssy0xPLMnMz0vMAfGizOINLdwdPTyDDTz9TVxMDDydQnyc3Cx8jU3MDPSDU_P0C7ldFQHCKiCq/

Environment

- *Eartheasy: Solutions for Sustainable Living <http://eartheasy.com/>
- *Metropolitan Water District of Southern California: bewaterwise.com <http://www.bewaterwise.com>
- *South Bay Environmental Services Center <http://www.sbesc.com/>
- *United States Environmental Protection Agency: Climate Change <http://www.epa.gov/climatechange/>

Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning

- *Western HVAC Performance Alliance
<http://www.performancealliance.org/HVACTradeShowsEvents/tabid/221/Default.aspx>
- *ASHRAE (American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers) BACnet
<http://www.bacnet.org>

NOTE: MORE SITES WILL BE ADDED ON A PERIODIC BASIS.

* These web sites have been specifically recommended by El Camino College Industry and Technology Division faculty.