We're here to help! If unsure who your question/issue should go to, reach out to us! If the process needs to be stopped/paused for any reason, the EER should pause and check-in with the Search Chair, HR, and/or T9/EEO.

EEO Violation

WHAT TO DO WHEN THERE IS A VIOLATION OF EEO PROCEDURES

- If the process needs to be stopped/paused for any reason, the EER should feel comfortable speaking up at any stage during the search process.
- Any committee member can report a concern to the EER, the EEO Officer, or HR at any time before/during/after the search process.
- If informed during an active search, the EEO Officer will meet with the Search Chair and appropriate VP to discuss the issue.
 - The screening/interview process will be paused.
 - The EEO Officer will notify the committee members in writing of the violation.
- The Superintendent/President and/or the VP of HR will make a final determination regarding the issue.

Forming the Search Committee

Search Chair

- Forms the Search Committee.
 - The Chair should make a good faith effort to assemble a committee that is diverse to bring a variety of perspectives to the assessment of applicant qualifications.
 - EER requests come through the online Hiring Workflow (formstack) and must be received at least 2 weeks prior to the first meeting.
- May develop preliminary interview questions.

Human Resources

- HR approves committee members.
- HR screens out applicants who do not provide complete application materials or do not meet the minimum qualifications.

Title IX and EEO Compliance Office

- Sends out a call to eligible EERs to volunteer to serve on the search committee and will enter into Formstack and email the Search Chair.
- Assigns Keenan Training.

Search Committee Composition

Full-Time (non-faculty) Recruitments

Full-Time Search Committees must include (non-Faculty):

- Chair
- EER
- ECCE or AFT Union Rep (depending on type of recruitment)
- Optional, someone in a like position

Full-Time Search Committees must include (POA):

- Chair
- EER
- POA Union Rep

Due to the unique nature of hiring for specialized roles such as Campus Police Officer or Public Safety Dispatcher, the sequence and steps in the search process may differ from standard procedures. The Search Chair will explain this during the 1st committee meeting.

Search Committee Composition

Part-Time Faculty Recruitments

- More flexibility!
- No Chair, Dean, EER, or Union Rep is required.
- Can be two faculty members within the division.

Search Committee Composition

Full-Time Faculty Recruitments*

- Chair: Division Dean or designee.
- EER (strong preference for faculty EER).
- Director (if applicable, who has specific program responsibility over the position).
- 3 or more FT faculty members from the discipline (one of whom must be tenured). These committee members shall be approved by a majority of the FT faculty in the discipline.
- Recommended: 1 FT faculty from an outside division approved by the committee and the division dean.

(FT Faculty recruitments do not require an AFT representative or Academic Senate)

Per AFT Appendix M-1 (Tenure-Track Faculty Hiring Procedures)*

EER Voting Status

Full-Time Faculty Recruitments

- The Search Committee shall decide by majority vote, whether the EER shall be voting or NON-voting.
- This decision must be made prior to any substantive discussion.
- If non-voting, EER still must read and review applications and related materials and submit all related documents/forms.
- If non-voting, EER *still upholds all normal duties (such as raising issues of bias).

All Other Recruitments

- EERs are VOTING members of the Search Committee.

What to do if you are NOT voting?

Question: If I can't vote, do I have to look at all the application materials?

Answer: Yes. You may not have to conduct a detailed analysis of each candidate. However, if you have not reviewed any of the candidates' application materials, you do not know if what is being discussed by your fellow committee members is out of bounds. You are also still required to complete any forms/docs used during the search process.

Committee Duties

Understanding what the Search Committee as a whole is responsible for

Committee Member Duties

These are all shared responsibilities

1. Maintain confidentiality.
2. Disclose and address all potential conflicts of interest.
3. Help each other recognize and overcome bias.
4. Make search recommendations based solely on the job description and requirements and candidates' application materials/interviews.

Overall,
help each other uphold the integrity of the search process.

Committee Duties: #1 Maintain Confidentiality

You cannot talk about what takes place in the search committee or disclose details about it to anyone outside of the search committee, Human Resources, and the T9/EEO Office before, during, or after the recruitment is taking place.

- The search process is a highly sensitive and confidential process. It is critical that all search committee members, and those associated with this activity, maintain the highest degree of confidentiality in order to preserve the integrity of the process.
- It is a breach of confidentiality to:
 - unofficially contact colleagues or others connected to an applicant for information about an applicant, or answer any questions from curious colleagues regarding characteristics of the applicant pool.
 - divulge any information about the applicants or the dynamics of the search committee process before, during or after the process.
- Failure to maintain confidentiality may result in disciplinary action.
- Failure to maintain confidentiality may result in liability (to the District and you personally) stemming from complaints filed by unsuccessful candidates that were provided information about the search process.

Who can you talk to & what can you discuss or ask?

SEARCH CHAIR & COMMITTEE MEMBERS	HUMAN RESOURCES	Title IX and EEO Compliance Office
• Evaluating candidates, discussing their qualifications. • Qs/concerns of fairness, bias, conflicts of interest. • Qs about the job's required/desired qualifications. • Qs about scheduling.	• Qs about the search process itself, such as how the applications are screened, who is serving on a search committee, technical questions re: iGreentree, reference checks, board approval dates. • Feedback about the search process/workflow.	• Qs/concerns of fairness, bias, conflicts of interest that were not successfully addressed at the committee level.

Side discussions & off the record concerns:

- When a committee member shares a concern with you “off the record,” outside of committee meetings and deliberations, you need to share the concern with the group.
- In order to properly and timely address the concern, the committee needs to be aware of it and have the opportunity to discuss and address it as a group.
- It is best when the person can come forward and share their concern, but if they are not comfortable doing so, you need to share it.
 - Ex. “During the break, a committee member shared a concern with me that I want to make sure we address as a group...”

Remember: Nothing is off the record.

Committee Duties: #2 Addressing & Eliminating Conflicts Of Interest

As a member of the search committee, it is your responsibility to recognize and acknowledge potential biases or conflicts of interest (COI).

All committee members are required to disclose any potential conflicts of interest to the EER and/or EEO Officer before candidate selection and throughout the search process. If a committee member indicates that they know a candidate, this disclosure must prompt a conversation to address the situation. You must share their name, type of relationship, and degree of closeness.

- Solutions could range from pledging to remain fair and impartial to stepping down from the committee.
- Not revealing a conflict of interest could lead to a complaint of an unfair hiring practice.
- Not revealing a conflict of interest could result in removal from the search committee.

COI Check | What to Disclose

Examples:

- In general, you know any applicant for this position prior to this process.
- (Even though)... the applications have not yet been released ...
 - I am aware of 2 people who I have heard are going to apply for the job. John Doe from Department A and Jane Doe from Department B. I worked with John for 2 years...but I feel I can evaluate him fairly and will not take into account my personal experiences working with him unless it is raised in his application materials. I have worked with Jane a few times.... but I feel I can evaluate her fairly and will not take into account my personal experiences working with her unless it is raised in his application materials.
- I do not know of anyone who is applying for this job, so I don't have any conflicts of interest I am aware of.

Examples of Conflict of Interest where you may need to recuse yourself.

- Applicant is a close personal friend.
- You have personal or inside knowledge that would influence your attitude about an individual (from a prior work or social setting).
- Dislike/disdain or admiration of an applicant that is so compelling you cannot remain fair or impartial.
- You are a close relative to or in a partnership with any applicant for this position (e.g., marriage, intimate partnership, sibling, child-parent, etc.).
- You have a financial interest or relationship with any applicant.
- You have been a party to a grievance, informal complaint, or investigation involving an applicant regarding moral integrity or character.
- You determine, for whatever reason, that you cannot be fair or remain unbiased toward all applicants involved in this process.
- You have an emotional investment in the outcome of a particular candidate.

COI Check | What to Disclose

Clear COIs Where the committee member may need to recuse themselves	Potential COIs That can lead to [unconscious] biases interfering with the search process
• The candidate is a relative or close personal friend. • You have personal or inside knowledge that would influence your attitude about an individual (from a prior work or social setting). • Dislike/disdain or admiration of an applicant that is so compelling you cannot remain fair or impartial. • You have a financial interest with the applicant.	• You know who the candidate is prior to this process. • You have worked with the candidate previously. • You attended a work conference together. • You currently work with the candidate. • You are work friends. • You know the candidate socially. • You are distantly related to the candidate. • The candidate listed you as a reference on their application.

Committee Duties: #3 Recognizing & Overcoming Unconscious Biases

- Unconscious biases are our attitudes or stereotypes that affect our understanding, actions, and decisions in an unconscious way. Unchecked, these mental shortcuts can lead to erroneous conclusions that an applicant is not qualified for the job.
- They are pervasive, do not necessarily align with our declared beliefs, and can bypass our normal, rational, and logical thinking.
- Biologically we are hardwired to prefer people who look and sound like us, and who share our interests.

Adapted from Reza, Jacqueline. Neal, Veronica. "Hiring Excellence with an Eye Towards Equity" Presentation. El Camino College, 29 September 2017.*

Recognizing & Minimizing Implicit Biases

We are NOT all in the same boat

- Stated Education
- Attire/Physical Appearance
- Demeanor
- Perceived Protected Classes, etc.

- Locations & Backgrounds
- Ambient Noises/Interruptions
- Appearing by Phone or Zoom Instead
- Technical Issues

How We Eliminate Bias in Screening Decisions

- Calibrate the committee: develop an equitized rating scale for all applicants before paper search based on KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, ABILITIES, EXPERIENCE.
- Apply the same criteria to all applicants. No cherry picking.
- Develop a consistent interview agenda for all candidates.
- Educate interviewers on position, process and questions.
- Use standard evaluation and rating sheets.
- Conduct reference checks consistently.

How do you Interrupt Bias?

Ask Questions!

What do you mean by that?

How is [what you've said] related to the job based on the job announcement?

Is this within the scope of their application materials and interview?

Bias Statement	Interrupting Questions
This person is not the right fit.	Please explain. What's the cultural contribution we are aiming for? What aspect of the job requirements and duties is it related to?
This person was not professional.	What do you mean by that? Is it required in order to fulfill the job's duties and responsibilities? If so, which ones?
This person does not have (enough) California Community College experience.	Is that a required or desired qualification? How does that experience directly impact the job's function?
I couldn't understand this person with their accent. How will others be able to?	What part was unclear? Is their oral communication key to this position?
This person has no experience doing _____. The other person does.	Is this experience a required or desired qualification for this job? Are we valuing this qualification equally among candidates?
School A has a much better doctoral program than School B. So, we should pick the person who went to School A.	Is the caliber of school a required or desired qualification for this position? If not, it cannot be used as a deciding factor over those listed on the job announcement.
Person A worked at _____ Community College. They have a really strong program, so Person A would be really qualified for the job.	The caliber of a school or its program does not necessarily mean the person is also just as good. We need to consider the qualifications of the person, not the program.
I've heard some bad things about this person.	We are not allowed to consider anything that wasn't shared through the application or the interview process. Maybe we should discuss what can be addressed in the reference check process for anyone who makes it to that point.

Committee Duties: #4 Evaluating & Ranking Candidates

Make search recommendations based solely on the following:

The job description & requirements

and

The candidates' application materials & interviews

ALWAYS REFER TO THE JOB ANNOUNCEMENT
MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS ALWAYS COME FIRST

Do they meet the minimum qualifications according to the criteria detailed in the job announcement?

- Education
- Equivalency
- Requisite years of experience
- Type of requisite experience

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS ARE SECONDARY, BUT CAN BE DECIDING FACTORS.

They must be clearly job-related. Examples include:

- Excellent and extensive knowledge of a discipline; ability to provide advanced teaching and other services.
- Previous experience working in post-secondary educational settings.
- They may not be construed in a discriminatory manner.
- Example: strong communication skills and interpersonal skills.

How to rank the candidates using the 1-4 scale

- Review each application to ensure the candidate meets minimum qualifications.
 - If there are equivalencies, what are examples of qualifying experience/ education?
- Review each application for the desired qualifications the group discussed.
- Stick to what the applicant discloses. Do not guess or make assumptions.
- Ranking should mostly consist of 1s, 2s, and 3s.
- There should be very few, if any, 4s.

- 1) I want to interview this candidate
- 2) I'm not sure. Let me think about it
- 3) I do not want to interview this candidate
- 4) Candidate does not meet the minimum qualifications

The Screening Evaluation Form

- Every committee member (voting & non-voting) needs to fill out the Screening Evaluation Form and upload it to the Teams site PRIOR to the 2nd meeting.
- Do NOT consider or write down any references to perceived or actual protected classes.
- The Chair will specify when the committee needs to submit their individual rankings.
- The Chair will compile all the scores using excel/sheets to establish a preliminary group ranking.

The 1st Committee Meeting

What needs to take place:

- ☐ EER trains the committee members. All members must watch the EEO training video together.
- ☐ The search chair leads the review of the job to make sure everyone on the committee understands the job duties and minimum qualifications.
 - ☐ For any specialized roles (such as Campus Police Officer or Public Safety Dispatcher), the sequence & steps in the search process may differ from standard procedures. The search chair will explain this during the 1st committee meeting.
- ☐ The search chair should explain any equivalencies.
- ☐ The search chair should explain the order of desired qualifications and highlight which are most important.
- ☐ The committee reviews, revises, and agrees on interview questions. In the meeting/not emailed.
- ☐ The committee makes ground rules.
- ☐ The committee schedules the 2nd meeting and (first round) interview dates.
- ☐ Helpful practice: the committee as a whole may develop a ranking of desired qualifications to clearly understand what to look for when evaluating application materials.

THIS MEETING SHOULD BE AT LEAST 90 MINUTES.

You cannot review applications until all these requirements are met.

The 1st Committee Meeting

Discussion is Key!

- Must be a meeting! Cannot be via email/chat.
- Make sure everyone understands what to look for in application materials.
- Make sure everyone understands what the most important desired qualifications are and why.
- Do not wait to raise an issue.
- Help make space for others who may be more hesitant to share their thoughts and concerns.
- Discuss and decide upon ground rules before any substantive discussions have begun.
 - Decisions on what to do if emergencies come up for either candidates or committee members.
 - How to proceed if only one selected applicant is available to interview? Meet/failed search/get a larger pool?
 - Interview variations (such as extra time, follow up questions, clarifications, etc.).
 - Zoom/tech issues.

This continues throughout the entire search process!

The 1st Committee Meeting

Interview Questions

Interview Questions:

- Make sure the questions are directly related to the job announcement.
- Make sure none of the questions pre-suppose something that exceeds a minimum qualification.
- Make sure the committee understands how the Q should be answered.
 - If the question is technical, what is the answer?
 - What type of answer would the ideal candidate have?
- Recommended practices:
 - Avoid Qs where the answer can be easily found in the application materials.

EER Duties: At the 1st Committee Meeting

- ☐ Train the committee by playing the EEO training video.
 - Go first before there is any substantive discussion.
 - Explain your role in safeguarding integrity of the search process.
 - Log into Keenan, share your screen, and show all members the EEO training video.
 - Read the Statement of Confidentiality and Conflict of Interest form.
 - Address any questions and concerns.
- ☐ Perform the 1st (of at least 3) Conflict of Interest (COI) check.
- ☐ Remind committee to sign and return the Statement of Confidentiality/COI Duties Form & complete Keenan implicit bias training.

NOTE: If the committee is meeting in-person all search committee materials stay with the Search Chair (e.g., the Statement of Confidentiality, COI, interview Qs, etc.).

Reminder: Due to the unique nature of hiring for specialized roles such as Campus Police Officer or Public Safety Dispatcher, the sequence and steps in the search process may differ from standard procedures. The Search Chair will explain this during the 1st committee meeting.

ARRIVE PREPARED:

- ☐ Laptop
- ☐ Keenan EEO Video
- ☐ Statement of Confidentiality
- ☐ Conflict Disclosure Recording Sheet

Title IX and EEO
Compliance Office

EER Duties: How to Conduct a COI Check

Done at the start of each committee meeting

THE EER WILL NEED TO PERFORM A CONFLICT OF INTEREST (COI) CHECK EVERY TIME YOU MEET WITH YOUR COMMITTEE.

- This should be at least 3 times (first meeting, second meeting, interviews).
- Start the COI check by going first.
- Ask each individual committee member if they recognize anyone.
- If someone does, you will ask for the applicant's name, type of relationship, and degree of closeness.
- The committee will need to discuss and decide how to move forward.

EVERYONE MUST ANSWER INDIVIDUALLY

- You will ask each committee member individually if they have any conflicts to disclose. Don't just ask the group collectively, "does anyone have any conflicts?" Make sure each committee member goes one at a time and answers the question explicitly.

SAY THEIR NAME(S)

- It is CRUCIAL that each committee member not only disclose clear or potential COIs, but that they name the candidate. When disclosing, share their name, type of relationship, and degree of closeness.
- Knowing the names of the candidates is extremely important for the group to be able to check one another. By naming who the potential conflicts are, every committee member can help check each other and raise questions if it appears they are being biased.

EER Duties: Filling out the Conflict Disclosure recording sheet

- Fill in the highlighted sections (add or delete rows to fit your committee).
- Fill out each committee member's conflicts (or lack thereof) every time you meet with the committee.
- Example: 1st meeting, 2nd meeting, and prior to interviews.
- EER will ask the President as well!

- ✓ Write notes next to each committee member's name.

Examples:

- No known conflicts (NKC).
 - No new conflicts (NNC).
 - Knows Jane Doe from SMC. Friendly, but not friends outside of networking. Affirms can be fair, not use outside information.
 - Worked with John Jones for 5 years at PCC on same team. Affirms he can be fair/unbiased.
- ✓ Add to this form every time you meet.
 - ✓ Use this form as a reference when the committee is discussing and ranking candidates.
 - Are committee members ranking the people they know better or worse than other committee members are? If so, raise the issue.
 - ✓ At the end, submit this form to the Committee Chair (and their admin) and/or upload to the MS Teams site.

What Happens After the 1st Committee Meeting

- The list of interview questions is submitted to HR for approval.
- The EEO Officer reviews and approves the EEO report.
- The HR Service Partner releases applications for review on iGreentree.
 - Warning: if there are any committee members who have not completed the Keenan implicit bias training, the applications will not be released.
- The Search Chair shares with the committee the Evaluation Screening Form to fill out and the highlighted job description/announcement for their reference or shares it on the specific search committee Teams site.
- Committee members individually review and rank the applicant pool.
 - Log in to <https://elcamino.igreentree.com/>
 - Fill out the “Recruitment Evaluation Screening Form”
- Committee members upload their completed Evaluation Screening Forms to the recruitment’s MS Teams site.
 - Search Chair should make sure all members have access.

The 2nd Committee Meeting

Consistency is KEY!

- EER:
 - Perform 2nd CONFLICT check.
- Everyone:
 - Review applicant rankings.
 - Determine applicants to invite for interview.
 - Finalize interview logistics: review interview questions, confirm interview dates/times.
 - Decide on who is asking which questions.
 - Timekeeper role & responsibilities.
 - If the interview is online, who will paste interview questions in the Zoom chat.
- Make sure the evaluation of applicants is based on MINIMUM & DESIRED qualifications.

The 2nd Committee Meeting

Discussion of Preliminary Rankings

- During the 2nd meeting(s), the Chair will share the committee's individual preliminary rankings (often in excel/sheets format).
- The Chair will sort the candidates by the total score (from each of the committee members).
 - The lower the total score, the higher the candidate is ranked.
- It is reasonable for committees to decide that candidates whose average score is 3 (i.e., the committee does not want to interview them) can be eliminated.
- It is also reasonable for committees to determine if there is a natural separation between those ranked high and those in the “middle” of the pack.
 - Some choose to focus on candidates who are “on the bubble” (who are not top ranked, but fall in the next group) to determine who should be invited to interview.
- It is in the committee's discretion where to focus discussions and deliberations.
 - Some choose to allow for each committee member to advocate for any particular candidate who did not rank at the top.
 - The key is that whatever methodology the committee chooses, it needs to be fair and consistently applied.

The 2nd Committee Meeting

How To Decide Who Gets An Interview

- The committee should come to a consensus about what criteria will be used to determine which candidates will move forward in the process.
 - The criteria must be based on the job announcement/job qualifications.
 - Anyone who moves forward in the screening process must meet minimum qualifications.
 - Determine which desired qualifications are most important. Be explicit, make sure everyone knows what to look for, and what will be valued most.
- Criteria based on the job announcement is what determines the cut off point. It cannot be based on convenience.
 - Example: If there are 200 qualified applicants (who meet minimum qualifications), the committee must be consistent in how they apply and rank desired qualifications.
 - The committee cannot just make a choice to choose the top 10 because it would help narrow down the field and make the group of applicants more manageable.
 - If the group decides on prioritizing certain criteria, and it results in moving forward 30 candidates, the committee must make the accommodation to interview all of them.

The 2nd Committee Meeting

When To Speak
Up & Ask Questions

- If there is a large disparity between committee members' rankings...
- If you do not understand why one criteria was weighted more heavily than others...
- If you feel there is inconsistency in the value placed on certain criteria across candidates...
- If you are not sure if the criteria being used is related to the job announcement and job requirements...

FIND OUT WHY &
ENGAGE IN DISCUSSION

Interview Process

On the day of the interviews:

- EER: performs LAST Conflict of Interest Check!
Or second to last COI check if there are President level interviews.
- Everyone:
 - Give each candidate the same high level of interest, courtesy, care and attention.
 - If you offer any variations (such as extra time, follow up questions, clarifications, etc.) to one candidate, you must do the same for everyone.
 - Confirm who is asking which questions.
 - Confirm who is handling the timekeeper role & responsibilities.
 - If the interview is online, who will paste interview questions in the Zoom chat.
 - Write down specific information about each candidate on the interview rating/comments sheet.

Plan ahead and be sure to arrive on time.

Interview Process

Follow Up Questions

During the interview process when follow-up questions are allowed ...

- Question must be directly related to the original question.
 - Example: Please expand on your specific role in the project.
- Question must be directly related to something contained in the applicant's answer.
 - Example: You stated you developed the criteria, can you tell us more about that?

Follow-up interview questions allow committee members to probe for specifics, help minimize exaggerations and limit generalizations.

Deliberations (after all interviews)

EVERYONE:

- Assess all candidates fairly, consistently, and impartially.
- Only consider the information shared by the applicants during their interviews and/or as part of their application materials.
- Make sure bias and other non-merit factors are not considered. Examples of bias include previous work experience and friendships with applicants.
- Your preliminary rankings of candidates can change after reviewing application materials and participating in committee discussions.

Submit all forms/search related documents to the Search Chair (& admin) & upload to the recruitment Teams site.

Deliberations (after all interviews)

IF THERE IS ONE ROUND OF INTERVIEWS...

- Evaluate the candidates interview and application materials.
- The purpose of the Committee is to select the candidate they feel is most qualified for the position.
- It is good practice to select a handful of alternates (in ranked order) in the event the chosen candidate is unable to accept the position.

IF THERE ARE TWO ROUNDS OF INTERVIEWS...

- Evaluate the candidates interview and application materials.
- The purpose of the first round of interviews is for the Committee to select roughly three (3) qualified candidates for the President to interview and choose from.
- It is good practice to select a handful of alternates (in ranked order) in the event the finalists who are chosen are unable to attend final interviews.
- For any candidates that are forwarded to the President for consideration, the Committee is asserting that the candidate is the most qualified and capable to do the job.

Classified Staff Searches: limited to a single interview round, during which the final hiring decision is made.

Other Full-time Searches: committee recommends 2-3 finalists (plus alternates) for President-level interviews.

Check Your Understanding

Let's Check-in!

What would you (as the EER) do in these situations?

You are doing your 2nd COI check and a committee member casually says one of the candidates is their sister?

Pause the search! This is a clear COI where the committee member may need to recuse themselves. Check with the committee and your Search Chair. Discuss. If you need assistance, reach out to T9/EEO.

After your first meeting, one of the committee members needs to step down, but luckily they have already found a replacement (but this person was not already on the committee).

Pause the search! Inform Search Chair, HR Service Partner, and the T9/EEO Office asap. Since this is a brand new committee member, the process needs to start from the beginning (committee approval, interview questions, job announcement/criteria, conflict check, EEO video, etc.). Or they cannot join. If the replacement happened to already be on the committee, you should update the Search Chair and the HRSP.

The Search Chair has your first meeting scheduled this week, but you haven't received any of the EER docs from T9/EEO Office.

Check in with HR & T9/EEO! You can let the Search Chair know that you haven't heard from the T9/EEO Office yet and you need to confirm that the committee has been approved by HR before moving forward.

You and/or the Search Chair already know all committee members, so there is no need to meet until interviews are scheduled. Is this acceptable?

No. Even if you have the same/similar committee, you still need to meet. You will need to meet and go over/discuss the EEO video, COI check, Statement of Confidentiality, job description, interview questions (which cannot be emailed), etc. For ex: failed search.

Who should inform the Search Chair in scenarios like these?

As the trained EER for the search you should feel comfortable speaking to the Search Chair, asking questions, and potentially pausing the search. If you need support, reach out to the T9/EEO Office and the HR Service Partner.
