Scholarly Institute for Teaching Excellence (SITE): A planning and informational session for current or potential communities of practice

SITE is a framework for educators to make productive, professional relationships that facilitate positive change at El Camino College. This two-hour informational and planning session will provide an opportunity for faculty to learn about the program and form or join an existing Focused Learning Community (FLC) based on the 2020-2021 inquiry question: How do we transform El Camino into an anti-racist college? FLCs will prepare their long-term plans for working together to dive deeply into their area of inquiry.

Presenters: Lars Kjeseth, Rose Cerofeci, Art Martinez, & Rhea Lewitzki

THIS I WILL DEFEND

This session is on the military ideals that transcend racism.

Military men and women swear to defend the Constitution of the United States. They swear to defend the RIGHTS of every American guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, it doesn't matter what color of someone's skin, what faith, what sexual orientation, what gender.

The military mission if you are Army green, Marine red, Navy blue, Air gray, Coast Guard blue - no matter the color ONE TEAM, ONE FIGHT.

That is how Americans should think. Freedom and Equality, This I Will Defend!

The breakout session listed below is designated for CLASSIFIED STAFF:

Using the Critical Race Tools of Racial Microaggressions and Microaffirmations to Examine Everyday Racism in Academic and Social Spaces

Dr. Daniel G. Solórzano will use a Critical Race Theory framework and the tools of racial microaggressions to examine everyday racism inside and outside of educational institutions. He will focus on racial microaffirmations as one response to racial microaggressions. He will engage us in an interactive dialogue about how to improve the learning environment to maximize engagement, learning and discovery for our increasingly diverse community.
