Student Learning Outcomes:	SLO #1 Greek Philosophers In a written essay students will analyze how philosophers, from ancient Greece through the modern era, have considered and conceptualized a variety of ideas critical to the discourse of political theory. SLO #2 The State In a written essay students will describe and assess the value of a state based on privilege versus one based on equality, and the apparent conflict between liberty and equality in a democratic state. SLO #3 Social Justice In a written essay students will describe and analyze the different theories of the "just state", and compare and contrast their ideas on political power and social justice.
Course Objectives:	1. Analyze and interpret the writings of Western classical and modern political theorists. 2. Distinguish between the descriptive and normative elements of political thinking. 3. Identify and evaluate the changing roles of Western political theory, and the relation between theory and practice. 4. Assess and analyze the theoretical foundations of enduring political questions including the role of the state, the obligation of citizens/subjects to the state and vice versa, basic values that should be pursued, and to what end, and by what means those values should be pursued. 5. Distinguish between various philosophical conceptions of the social contract. 6. Explain and analyze the concept of natural law.

	7. Identify and explain the foundations of political legitimacy and how it may be maintained. 8. Explain and distinguish the relation between theories of human nature and conceptions of the just state.

A.1. Primary Methods of Evaluation (Part 1 - CCN courses only):
A.2. Primary Method of Evaluation (Part 2 - all courses; choose one):	1) Substantial writing assignments
Typical Assignment Using Primary Method of Evaluation:	Read a selection in the text from Aristotle and consider the following: What types of inquiry does Aristotle consider in formulating his conclusions? Why is man a political animal? What is a political community? What makes one a citizen? In a four- to five-page essay, critically analyze these issues and integrate readings from other thinkers.
Critical Thinking Assignment 1:	It has been argued by Rousseau that an individual finds fulfillment and freedom only as a member of the whole community. How does this version of liberty differ from those of John Locke or John Stuart Mill? Write a three- to five-page essay analyzing these divergent opinions and explain why you think one or the other has greater validity.
Critical Thinking Assignment 2:	After closely reading the material in your text, write a three- to five-page essay on the advantages of a state based on the rule of privilege. Incorporate the arguments presented by a minimum of two of the philosophers studied. After explaining the positive aspects, critique your position by referring to a selection of relevant philosophers (your choice).
