IV. PRIMARY METHOD OF EVALUATION AND SAMPLE ASSIGNMENTS

A. PRIMARY METHOD OF EVALUATION:

Substantial writing assignments

B. TYPICAL ASSIGNMENT USING PRIMARY METHOD OF EVALUATION:

What are the advantages and disadvantages of Entrepreneurship?

Entrepreneurial endeavors can be risky decisions. Thousands of new businesses are started and thousands of others fail each year. Why would someone give up the security of working for others to assume the risk of business ownership? Find out by interviewing one or more small-business owner(s) in your area. Ask them the following questions and any other appropriate questions.

- Did you ever work for someone else? If so, why did you stop? If no, why did you pursue entrepreneurship without any other working experience?
- Why did you want to go into business for yourself?
- What expectations did you have when you started the business? Were these expectations fulfilled?
- What advice do you have for an entrepreneur thinking of starting a new business today?
- What decisions that you made along the way would you have changed?

Required: Summarize your interview and apply the entrepreneurship concepts. For example: you might discuss why business owners take risks, attributes of entrepreneurs, how they resolve problems, their needs for resources to get started (capital, idea, IT, budget, etc.), assistance from the SBA, small business management, business plan, and/or start-up source of funding. Your summary should fill one page, single- spaced.

C. COLLEGE-LEVEL CRITICAL THINKING ASSIGNMENTS:

1. Describe the four functions of management and define each of these functions. In a two-page report discuss these essential aspects of business leadership.
2. Describe the key organizing functions of business management in a three-page report.
