

PHILOSOPHY – TRANSFER REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements are subject to change without notice. To ensure that this information is current, you should consult with a Liberal Studies counselor or review articulation agreements via the Internet at www.assist.org.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES: Philosophy is concerned with the basic assumptions we make about the world and ourselves. It is the basis for examining one's own feelings, thoughts, perceptions and beliefs. The study of philosophy develops analytic and problem-solving skills. New roles for philosophers involve raising ethical issues and examining environmental and social problems created by modern technology. A major in philosophy is a foundation for college and university teaching, graduate study in such fields as diplomacy, law, library science, social science, and theology. The outlook for career opportunities is not very good but a double major may enhance career opportunities (e.g., logic with mathematics, aesthetics with art or literature, value theory with political science, theories of knowledge with biology or psychology, or ethics with business administration). Philosophers are now finding a new role as consultants to business and industry on ethical issues.

PHILOSOPHY AA-T REQUIREMENTS

Students who have completed the AA-T in Philosophy will have a strong academic foundation in the field and will be prepared for upper division baccalaureate study at the university. This coursework will satisfy most of the lower-division requirements at many institutions within the California State University system. This degree is intended for students who major in Philosophy and may provide priority consideration for admission to a CSU.

Students considering transferring to a UC, private, or out of state university: Please consult with a counselor before applying to transfer since transfer requirements may be slightly different than those required for the AA-T.
