Follow-Up Reports

S. Bucher emailed the list of all missing reports to Janet Quezada last spring 2018 semester. Janet Quezada will forward the list to C. Schult Roman to update the follow up reports. Bucher also suggested to C. Schult Roman to send follow up reminders. C. Schult-Roman agreed that it would be a good idea.

ILO Assessment for Spring 2019 – Communication

The Communications ILO was assessed in spring. However, there are only 7 math courses that are aligned to the ILO.

Faculty Survey

C. Schult-Roman inquired if faculty should be surveyed to find out how satisfied the faculty are with the process. Any type of feedback would be great. Zachary Marks added that he would include in the survey, items such as portal issues, when someone types in the faculty information it cuts off and does not allow you to finish, system just says you ran out of space.

Alignment Grid

S. Bucher explained that the alignment grid was recently updated, 6 ILO updated to 4 ILO's, and the alignment grids are up to date. It was further recommended to send the alignment grid to the committees for their review.

SLO Communication and traditions

C. Schult-Roman asked the committee if there is a tier of whom she needs to reach, considering it is her 1st time as the chair to DLOACC. M. Georgevich recommended to contact only the DLOACC committee members and they will reach out to the rest of the committees.

Dean's Remarks

J. Sims mentioned the AB 705 timeline. She also plans to provide lunch at the next AB 705 meeting on September 20, 2018. J. Sims also thanked the committee for all the hard work and highlighted that their hard work does not go unnoticed. J. Sims welcomed Catherine Schult-Roman as the new chair for DLOACC.
