El Camino College

Computer Science Week
March 22-26, 2021

Computer Science is a growing field, and employers are eager to hire you! Come learn all about ways to pursue degrees in computer science and STEM at El Camino College's Computer Science Week.

Monday, March 22, 2021 / 3-4 p.m.

Tomorrow's Computing is Cloudy with Chances of Rain: A Talk by Dr. David Patterson
What is "The Cloud"? How big is it, where did it come from, and where is it located? Why is Amazon's Jeff Bezos the World's Richest Person? Why has Artificial Intelligence (AI) suddenly been on the front page of newspapers? Is it time to be excited about AI's potential or to start worrying about it?

Zoom Link

Tuesday, March 23, 2021 / 1-2 p.m.

Getting into Robotics
Get your feet wet with robotics! This student-facilitated discussion includes insight on how to start a journey into robotics and show how versatile the field can get. All STEM and non-STEM majors are welcome!

Zoom Link

Wednesday, March 24, 2021 / 3-4 p.m.

STEM Majors at El Camino College
Come learn about the majors involved in STEM at El Camino College. You will get information on the support programs offered to students (Warrior-Toro computer science program, MESA, and ASEM) as well as the careers opportunities in the STEM field.

Zoom Link

Thursday, March 25, 2021 / 1-2 p.m.

Planning and Inventing your Future: A Student Panel
Learn from recent El Camino College computer science alumni their journey to a successful and thriving career in computer science.

Zoom Link

Friday, March 26, 2021 / 3-4 p.m.

Women in Computer Science
Join us in an open panel discussion about women in computer science. Hear the voices from women computer science professionals as well as a female computer science student.

Zoom Link