

*COURSE SLO STATEMENTS REPORT*

ECC - REAL ESTATE

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 11	Real Estate Principles	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 11	Real Estate Principles	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 11	Real Estate Principles	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 11	Real Estate Principles	SLO #4 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 12A	Legal Aspects of Real Estate	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 12A	Legal Aspects of Real Estate	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 12A	Legal Aspects of Real Estate	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 12A	Legal Aspects of Real Estate	SLO #4 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 13	Real Estate Practice	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 13	Real Estate Practice	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 13	Real Estate Practice	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 13	Real Estate Practice	SLO #4 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 13	Real Estate Practice	SLO #5 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14A	Real Estate Finance I	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14A	Real Estate Finance I	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14A	Real Estate Finance I	SLO #3 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14B	Advanced Real Estate Finance	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability	Active	12/05/2013

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 14B	Advanced Real Estate Finance	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14B	Advanced Real Estate Finance	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 14B	Advanced Real Estate Finance	SLO #3 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 16	Real Estate Economics	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 16	Real Estate Economics	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 16	Real Estate Economics	SLO #3 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 19	Real Property Management	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 19	Real Property Management	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 19	Real Property Management	SLO #3 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 19	Real Property Management	SLO #4 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain	Active	12/05/2013

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 19	Real Property Management	SLO #4 Ethics and Agency	how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 21	Real Estate Investment	SLO #1 Mathematical Computations	Demonstrate effective skills to calculate typical real estate mathematic computations as found in diverse real estate business situations.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 21	Real Estate Investment	SLO #2 Industry Forms	Students show the ability to prepare and complete real estate industry documents effective interpersonal and time management skills in using typical real estate industry forms as found in diverse real estate business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 21	Real Estate Investment	SLO #3 Vocabulary	Apply knowledge of real estate vocabulary, standard industry forms, real estate math skills and ethics in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to take and pass the state examination for real estate sales or property management, appraisal or loan licensing to qualify to work with a diverse public in typical real estate transactions.	Active	02/18/2014
ECC: RE 26	Escrows	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 26	Escrows	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 26	Escrows	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 26	Escrows	SLO #4 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 26	Escrows	SLO #5 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 31	Mortgage Loan Brokering and Lending	SLO #03 Ethics and Agency (INACTIVE)	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Inactive	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 31	Mortgage Loan Brokering and	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real	Active	10/26/2017

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 31	Lending	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	10/26/2017
ECC: RE 31	Mortgage Loan Brokering and Lending	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents (formerly SLO #1)	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	10/26/2017
ECC: RE 31	Mortgage Loan Brokering and Lending	SLO #3 Mathematical Computations (formerly SLO #2)	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	10/26/2017
ECC: RE 40	Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 40	Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 40	Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 40	Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #4 Mathematical Computations	Students will demonstrate the ability to calculate typical real estate mathematic computational problems as found in diverse real estate business areas of sales, leases, prorations, finance, appraisal, property management, investments and capitalization, land or structure area and taxation.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 40	Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #5 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 41	Advanced Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	Students will define, describe and differentiate between various real estate standard terminology showing comprehension and knowledge of real estate vocabulary used in the workplace to assist and prepare each student from the diverse student body to gain confidence in their ability	Active	12/05/2013

Course ID	Course Name	Course SLO Title	Course SLO Statement	Course SLO Status	Input Date
ECC: RE 41	Advanced Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #1 Build Vocabulary	to effectively communicate and collaborate in a real estate sales, property management, appraisal, loan or investment to work with both licensees and a diverse public in a typical real estate transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 41	Advanced Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #2 Industry Forms and Documents	Students show the ability to prepare and complete standard real estate industry forms and documents as found in diverse real estate sales, rental, finance, appraisal or investment business transactions.	Active	12/12/2013
ECC: RE 41	Advanced Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #3 Methods of Holding Title	Students will identify, distinguish and differentiate the differences between the various methods of holding title to real property, showing the ability to analyze, concisely write and/or verbally communicate and apply the appropriate vesting available in a typical real estate business transaction.	Active	12/05/2013
ECC: RE 41	Advanced Real Estate Appraisal	SLO #4 Ethics and Agency	Students will differentiate between various parts of the real estate code of ethics and the standards of professional appraisal practices to explain how agency relationships are created and the duties and liabilities of agents and principals.	Active	12/05/2013