El Camino College Student Publications Honored at Conference

El Camino College student publications ranked in the top 10 in the “Best of Show” competition at the recent National College Media Convention in Washington, D.C.

The Union newspaper led the way with a fourth-place finish in the Associated Collegiate Press judging for newspapers from two-year colleges across the United States. The Union website, eccunion.com, ranked seventh among large-school websites. Both are guided by Editor-in-Chief Phil Sidavong.

Warrior Life magazine won a fifth-place ranking under Editor-in-Chief Sydnie Mills. El Camino College’s student literary magazine, Myriad, was rated ninth in the nation.

“El Camino College has a proud tradition of excellence in its journalism program – consistently producing award-winning student publications on a national level,” said El Camino College President Dena P. Maloney. “We are so proud of our students and the faculty who help them earn national recognition year after year.”

The Union, which along with Warrior Life is produced by students enrolled in journalism classes, is celebrating its 70th anniversary as a leader in college journalism. Copies of the newspaper through the years can be viewed via the El Camino College Schauerman Library’s ECC Digital Archive link found at www.elcamino.edu/library/library_ser/

In addition to its online presence at eccunion.com, the Union can be found on Twitter @ECCUnion and on Facebook at @ElCaminoUnion. Warrior Life, published each spring, can be viewed at <http://eccunion.com/warrior-life/>.

Stefanie Frith is the faculty adviser for the Union and Warrior Life. Kate McLaughlin oversees journalism department operations. Jack Mulkey is the advertising manager.
