ABOUT EL CAMINO COLLEGE

El Camino College has been making a difference in the South Bay since opening in 1947 with fewer than 500 students and 30 faculty members. Today, learners, dreamers, and achievers choose from nearly 100 degree programs and more than 100 certificates to pursue their passion and launch their careers.

Through the past 75 years, El Camino has grown and changed to meet the needs of our students, providing quality educational opportunities that lead to limitless transfer and career options.

We remain committed to offering an outstanding student experience, from campus clubs and government leadership to athletics, arts, and academic enrichment activities. Students have clear pathways to transfer and continue their education at a university. The College also partners with area businesses and industries, supporting them by preparing a skilled, competent workforce to advance the local economy.

Education is essential and can profoundly impact students, their families, and our community. El Camino's high-quality classes and signature support programs offer a life-changing pathway to a bright future.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

On this day, we give homage to the Gabrielino-Tongva people, the traditional caretakers of this land, Tovaangar, on which the El Camino campus resides.

We recognize that this institution benefits from the violent displacement and disenfranchisement of those who inhabited and stewarded this land for generations.

We pay our respect to the Gabrielino-Tongva people, past and present, and their connection to this space.

We are also aware of the racially discriminatory condemnation of the Gordon Manor tract, a Black residential development project proposed for this land in 1926.

We acknowledge a history of involuntary sacrifice that allowed for the establishment and continued existence of El Camino College.

EL CAMINO COLLEGE AT 75: THE PATH OF OUR DREAMS

El Camino College

CELEBRATING 75 YEARS

And now our newest graduates join the proud El Camino College legacy that spans 75 years. They are a permanent part of this place where thousands of learners, dreamers, and achievers got their start and found their path to change the world and make a difference in their community.

Today, we congratulate our graduates and celebrate the next generation finding their purpose and passion at El Camino College.

El Camino College started with a vision and now has become the destination for higher education excellence in the South Bay.

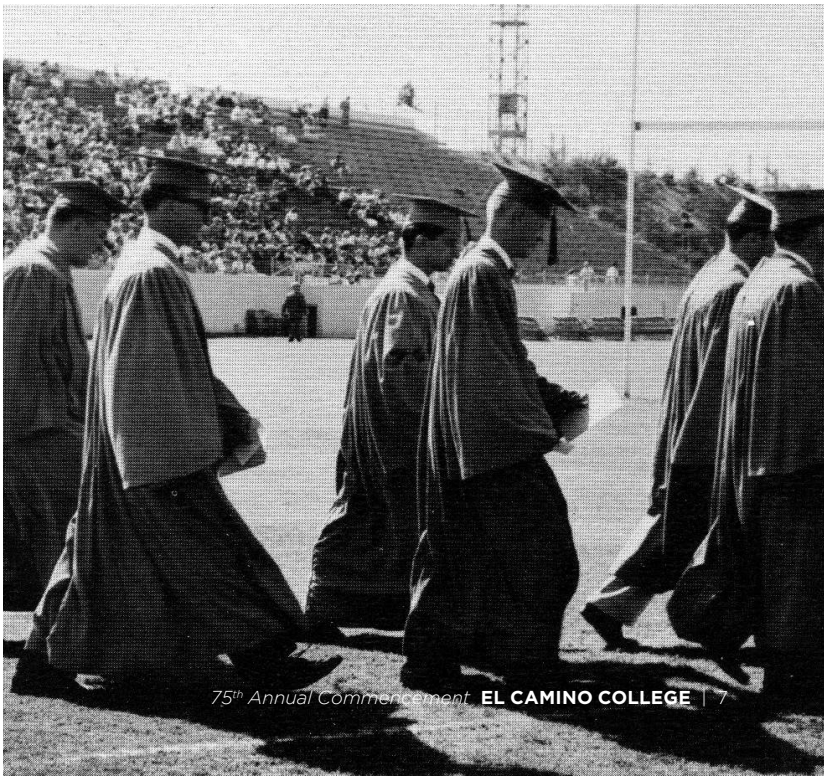

In 1947, students came to El Camino for education and training that would transform their lives and help them set their communities on a path of growth and prosperity. In many ways, they were like our students today – recent high school graduates, veterans, lifelong South Bay residents; and many were the first in their family to attend college.

Since then, we’ve kept learning, growing, and believing that our purpose is to build a better community by offering education to all.

Because when the South Bay moves forward together, we’re unstoppable.

CUSTOMS OF COMMENCEMENT

CEREMONIAL MACE

During commencement, the president of the Academic Senate carries the ceremonial mace that represents the roles and responsibilities of El Camino faculty in the success of the college.

CAP AND GOWN

The traditional cap and gown, known as graduation regalia, are worn by graduates during commencement. El Camino graduates wear blue; commencement volunteers wear white. Faculty and staff wear regalia appropriate to their academic achievements.

TASSELS

A tassel is worn on the right of the graduation cap. During the ceremony, graduates will be instructed to move the tassel to the left. El Camino's commencement tassel is blue; gold tassels are for students who had a cumulative 3.5 GPA or higher when the graduation intent was filed.

STOLES

An optional addition to commencement attire, stoles are sashes worn over the graduate's shoulders during commencement to signify achievement in academics or activities. This year, graduates have the option to wear a stole that commemorates the College's 75th anniversary.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Deyja Charles

Deyja Charles is an El Camino College alumna and accomplished news writer, editor, and manager whose career has taken her to newsrooms across the country. She currently works as an executive producer at ABC 10 News in San Diego.

After earning an associate degree at El Camino, Charles transferred to California State University, Fullerton where she earned a bachelor's degree in communications with an emphasis in broadcast journalism. She then took broadcast news positions at various networks where she wrote, produced, and reported local news.

While at El Camino, Charles found opportunities that guided her classwork, helped her land internships, and enabled her to envision her future. She said El Camino allowed her to explore career interests, which set her on a path to news reporting and production. She credits much of her success to joining El Camino's First Year Experience, a program that launched in 2001 with the mission to help students be successful.

STUDENT SPEAKER

Quinton Adams

Quinton Adams is a fire and emergency technology major who plans to apply to the El Camino Fire Academy with the goal of becoming a structural firefighter. He enrolled in El Camino College after earning a bachelor's degree in kinesiology at California State University, Fullerton last spring and went on to complete his degree at El Camino in just one year.

Adams said that the academic environment at El Camino was just what he needed – a community of learners with support coming from a variety of areas, from classmates and faculty to online resources that helped him connect with others while working on assignments.

Born and raised in Inglewood, Adams plans to utilize his skills and training to serve his community.

ALMA MATER

by Jack Ledbetter and W.W. Flewelling Jr.

Hail to thee, oh Alma Mater
Hail to Blue and Gray
El Camino, road of knowledge
You have shown the way
Through the years that lie before us
We will faithful be
Now we pledge thee
Our devotion
Through eternity

In 1955, the El Camino College student council adopted the alma mater, written by two music majors, Jack Ledbetter and W.W. Flewelling Jr.
