

EL CAMINO COLLEGE

Distinguished WOMEN 2024

DR. ARGELIA ANDRADE

DEVOTED/ ACADEMIC/ FOUNDER

Dr. Argelia Andrade joined our El Camino College faculty as a Spanish professor in 2014, where she has established herself as an exemplary professor devoted to her students and to the development of both their academic and personal potential. She has served on the My PATH faculty team, taught in the summer abroad program in Spain, and founded the nonprofit organization, Nuestras Raices, which works to promote social justice and to create future community leaders. Professor Andrade's dedication to the well-being of others is a shining example for our students and for the community at large.
