Because the number of committee members in attendance did not make a quorum, the meeting was an informational meeting only.

Fall Semester Parking

This semester has been the best for parking situations. There have been no complaints from faculty and staff. Parking fills-up to capacity around 10:30 am. Parking isn't a problem at night.

Construction Update

The Humanities complex construction zone at Admin Way (Crenshaw Blvd.) is in place. There have been two accidents where the netting was ripped and poles were damaged. Construction is scheduled to take 18 months. Hazardous abatement begins in two weeks, and demolition is scheduled for November/December.

Ground breaking for a new parking structure which will be constructed at the softball field is scheduled for June 2006. The structure will be five stories, which is the same height as the Marsee Auditorium. There will be approximately 1,200 parking stalls. Parking in Lot H will be lost; however, the north soccer field will be converted into student parking. After the third week of the semester, parking should be sufficient.

Recent Crime Incidents

There was a break-in at the Fine Arts Division Office. Someone scaled the ledge on the north side of the Fine Arts building and entered the dean's office by breaking the window. It has been observed that faculty in the Fine Arts area leave doors unlocked. Two areas which need to be more security conscious are Humanities and Fine Arts.

Drop-In Hour at Special Resource Center

Kirk Johnston held a morning and afternoon Drop-In Hour at the Special Resource Center. Kirk was there to answer any questions students might have about parking and police services. It was successful and will be held again in the future.

The meeting ended at 2:05 p.m. The next meeting is scheduled for November 9, 2005 at 1:30 p.m. in the President's Board Room.
