

COMMUNICATION STUDIES

Transfer Requirements

The following requirements for the major are subject to change without notice. To assure accuracy of the information on this sheet, you should consult with a counselor, the articulation officer, or review articulation agreements via the internet at www.assist.org.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Communications is a suitable major for such professions as public relations, advertising, education, social services, law, or public service. The major can be combined with a variety of specialized fields (e.g., Business, Journalism, Psychology, Marketing, Administration of Justice, and Broadcasting) for careers in business, government or industry. Communications integrates courses in interpersonal, intercultural, organizational and mass communication and public relations. For additional information on careers and job opportunities, see an advisor in the Career Center or a career counselor.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE FOR TRANSFER (AA-T)

Students who have completed the AA-T in Communication Studies will have a strong academic foundation in the field and will be prepared for upper division baccalaureate study at the university. This coursework will satisfy most of the lower-division requirements at many institutions within the California State University system. This degree is intended for students majoring in Communication Studies and may provide priority consideration for admission to a CSU.

Students considering transferring to a UC, private, or out of state university: Please consult with a counselor before applying to transfer since transfer requirements may be slightly different than those required for the AA-T and have UC credit limitations (COMS 265 and JOURN 12, one course).

Required Courses: Communication Studies 100;

List A: 6 units from: Communication Studies 120, 130, 140;

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

B.A. Communication www.usc.edu/admission/undergraduate/apply/transfer.html

Admission to the Annenberg School of Communication is competitive. Only 40-45 students are admitted each year. The entering transfer applicants were admitted with an average GPA of 3.67 or higher (GPA does not guarantee admission). Students should complete USC's general education pattern and the English writing requirement. Students will need to submit one letter of recommendation from a college professor. This major requires a third semester of a foreign language. There are no lower division prerequisites; however, Annenberg considers the following factors: 1) interest and commitment to major demonstrated by internships, employment, student clubs, and community service, 2) leadership in campus organizations, 3) employment, family responsibility and other circumstances that may have impacted academic performance, 4) it is recommended that students take college statistics for upper division course work preparation, 5) Students should develop critical thinking and writing skills and have strong grades in composition courses.
